

Lawgivers Foul Up Program On TB Hospitals

Lansing Log-Rollers Deceive Voters

By JACK I. GREEN

LANSING—(AP)—Seldom has the legislature fouled up a major state program with such deception and log-rolling as it has the current $5,000,000 tuberculosis hospital construction program.

The program developed into one of the bitterest undercurrents of finagling in recent legislative history.

Not only did the legislature approach the problem almost solely in a pork-barrel mood, but it cannot escape the implication that it deliberately deceived the voters.

Bond Issue Approved

A year ago, faced with demands from Governor Williams and the state mental health commission for construction of more mental hospital facilities, the legislature concocted a plan to raise a $60,000,000 bond issue for the purpose.

At the last minute, the Senate conceived the idea of increasing the bond issue proposal by $5,000,000 to include tuberculosis hospital construction in the constitutional amendment to be submitted to the people last fall.

There was a gentleman's agreement, if you please, in the legislature that only $5,000,000 would be used for TB hospitals, but nothing was said in the amendment to make that clear.

This proposal went to the people last fall, backed by heavy propaganda from those seeking better mental hospital facilities. Little or nothing was heard of the tuberculosis end of it.

The people approved the bond issue.

Boom Launched At Sarnia, Ont.

SARNIA, Ont.—(AP)—A trickle of oil turned this Canadian city into an industrial boomtown.

Located across the St. Clair river from Port Huron, Mich., Sarnia has prospects of prosperity few cities can match.

At least $118,000,000 in new plants are in the offing and a population goal of 55,000 by 1955 seems likely.

World War II changed things radically. When the Dutch East Indies fell to the Japanese, the Canadian and United States governments turned to synthetic rubber to offset the loss of natural rubber. The Canadian government organized its vast Polymer corporation and looked around for a site. Oil by-products were needed for rubber production and Sarnia, with its bog Imperial refineries, was chosen.

Polymer not only used Imperial by-products but gave off by-products which enabled Imperial to branch into the manufacture of high test aviation gasoline.

Soon Michigan's Dow Chemical company, utilizing Polymer and Imperial by-products, established plastics and chemical factories nearby.

There followed an industrial chain reaction in which the by-products of these firms attracted other factories whose by-products in turn brought in still others, all mushrooming in Sarnia's "chemical valley" five miles to the south along the St. Clair river.

Communist Triangle Falling; Allies Slog Forward In Korea

WEST CENTRAL FRONT, Korea — (AP)—Chinese Communists today began to abandon their "iron triangle" in North Korea in the face of strong United Nations attacks.

TOKYO — (AP)—Rain-pelted Allies today captured a knoll overlooking Kumhwa and shelled the ruins of Chorwon in North Korea.

The muddy fight for these two anchors of the Communist "iron triangle" mounted in fury while high level talks in Tokyo stirred talk of major developments in the Korean war.

United Nations soldiers waded forward for gains up to three and a half miles. In some areas, they were turned back. Red defenses before Chorwon and Kumhwa tightened.

Enemy Digs In

The Communists dug fresh trenches in their determination to block Allied tanks from bursting into the sprawling Ponggung valley. Chorwon and Kumhwa are gateways to its rice paddies and plains.

Should they fall, the Reds might have to retreat 65 miles northeast to Wonsan at the other end of the valley.

The Reds changed their battle tactics. They pulled in men from the flanks and bunched them.

Despite this, they had to make a new but slight withdrawal near the base of the triangle with its vital east-west road.

In Tokyo, U. S. Secretary of Defense Marshall conferred behind a guarded door for an hour and 15 minutes with the supreme Allied commander, Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway. This followed close conferences in Korea yesterday with all Allied commanders of forces in action against the Reds.

Driven Off Hill

North Korean Reds fought hard to prevent a flanking movement near the east end of Hwachon reservoir some 45 miles southeast of Kumhwa.

U. N. Troops there gained two miles in a day-long battle Friday but a Red regiment then attacked and drove them back.

North of the reservoir, Allied troops twice won a hill, only to be driven off each time by 600 Reds.

On the reservoir's western side, U. N. soldiers gained two miles after a day-long battle with 300 Reds.

The biggest gain of more than three miles was made northwest of Yonchon, a town seven miles inside North Korea, to Chorwon.

Three Russians Tossed Out Of American Zone

Soviet Mission Gets Ousted In Austria

By RICHARD O'REGAN

SALZBURG, Austria—(AP)—The United States army forcibly ejected a three-man Russian repatriation mission from the American zone of Austria this morning.

The Americans first got the Russians to leave their headquarters and come to an American army building.

When the Soviets then refused to drive voluntarily to the Russian zone, two G. I.'s dragged the protesting Russian driver from his black Mercedes.

Blocked By Truck

The Russians claimed they had received no orders from their headquarters to obey the American order to leave town.

After commandeering the car the Americans drove the Russians to the Soviet zone.

The U. S. army summoned the Russians to come to the American building, a displaced persons barracks. They were told they could have a conference there on the issue.

When they arrived Maj. G. E. Hartel, their American escort officer, said he would give them until 10:30 a. m. local time (4:30 EST.) to leave peacefully. After that they would be escorted out of the American zone.

The Russians refused, left the building and returned to their 21-room mission headquarters. When they got there they found they could not reenter the building because a big American army truck was backed up against the door. A group of G. I.'s was loading the Russians' baggage into the vehicle.

Dumped at Danube

The three Russians retreated to their automobile and sat waiting. The U. S. had ordered the Russians to leave because, it said, their mission had been achieved. Only 26 persons were repatriated to the Soviet Union between September 1950.

When the truck loaded it drove away from the door. At the same time, Maj. Hartel approached the car and asked Russian Col. Alexander Smirnov if he would follow the truck and an American sedan.

President Calls For New Taxes

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A series of administration proposals for new tax increases was hinted today as congressional leaders promised fast action on extending inflation control powers.

President Truman was given assurances on continuing controls by key legislators yesterday. The present control law expires June 30—three weeks from today.

At the same White House meeting the legislators received copies of a report from Mr. Truman's council of economic advisers warning of rapidly mounting inflationary pressures and calling for a "rounded and vigorous program" to combat them.

President Truman originally recommended $16,000,000,000 in new taxes. However, Secretary of the Treasury Snyder later said $10,000,000,000 would be okay as a starter. After long hearings, the House ways and means committee tentatively approved a $7,100,000,000 tax increase bill and is due to act finally next week.

The language used by Mr. Truman's economic advisers hinted that perhaps more than a total of $16,000,000,000 in new taxes is being considered for suggestion to Congress.

Male Help Needed

BATTLE CREEK — (AP)—The Veterans Administration appealed to male college students today to take summer-time jobs as hospital aides at the VA hospital at Fort Custer here. The jobs pay $2,450 annually or approximately $47 for a 40-hour week.

DIPLOMATS DISAPPEAR — The mystery of the disappearance of two high-ranking British diplomats, Guy Burgess (left) and Donald MacLean (right) deepened according to London authorities. It has been discovered that their families had received messages from them which were not in their handwriting. Prime Minister Clement Attlee has ordered an Europe-wide search. (NEA Telephoto)

Tornadoes Level Oklahoma Area

OKLAHOMA CITY—(AP)—Tornadoes wrecked dozens of homes in three western Oklahoma farming communities last night and lightning killed two persons in other storms.

Hardest-hit were Corn and Colony in Washita county. The highway patrol reported at least 35 homes splintered at Corn, a village of 300 persons 70 miles west of Oklahoma City.

At Colony, just east of Corn, two schools and 15 or 20 homes were destroyed by the twister. A farm house and barn were damaged near Chattanooga in south-west Oklahoma.

Officials said many residents of Corn owned their lives to Fire Chief Romie Denton at Cordell, whose telephone alert sent them scampering to cellars before the storm hit.

Lightning victims late yesterday were Lee Mosley, 18-year-old Panhandle A. & M. college freshman, and Eddie Mergert, 30, farmer at Bessie in Washita county. Both were working in fields when they were struck.

University Of Alaska Students Put Up Red Flag For Graduation

FAIRBANKS, Alaska — (AP)—Dr. Terris Moore, president of the University of Alaska, today confirmed reports that two university students lowered the American flag and tried to raise the Red flag during commencement exercises May 21 at which Governor Warren of California spoke.

One of the students, identified during a chase afterward, was later expelled. His identity was not disclosed. The identity of the other students still is not known.

Dr. Moore said the faculty had been forewarned that certain students would try to "ball up" the exercises. Members of the university's reserve officers training corps were stationed on the campus to watch for any demonstrations or "overt acts."

An R. O. T. C. guard saw an attempt to raise the Red flag and chased two offenders. Both escaped but one was recognized in the pursuit.

Montreal Burlesque Queen Criticized By Sacred Heart League

MONTREAL—(AP)—Lili St. Cyr—long-time idol of Montreal burlesque fans—has drawn the criticism of a Roman Catholic religious organization.

The Federation of Sacred Heart Leagues of Montreal sent telegrams yesterday to police and city officials asking that they "take all steps that appear necessary to forbid any spectacle or representation of Lili St. Cyr in any place within the city limits."

The federation has a membership of 40,000 in Montreal and its suburbs. Some 900 members attended a meeting last night which discussed strip-tease shows in general.

Meat Dealers Urge Lifting Of Controls

CHICAGO — (AP)—A group of the nation's retail meat dealers—noting dwindling supplies of beef—has urged Congress to remove price controls on meat.

The appeal by the dealers was made as sale of beef cattle at the country's 12 major livestock markets this week slumped to a three-year low. A spokesman said the dealers feel the controls will mean a continued scarcity of meat and illegal markets.

Real Pinch Next Week

The week's dull cattle trading by the big packers resulted in a virtual shutdown of slaughtering operations in many plants. Many farmers and feeders refused to send cattle to market under government price regulations. Packing industry spokesmen said the butcher shops will feel the full effects of the beef scarcity next week.

There were only 122,100 cattle sent to the 12 major livestock markets this week, the smallest since the week ended April 2, 1948. In four days last week cattle sales were 141,600 and a year ago, 167,700.

Feeders Gamble

The Corn Belt Livestock Feeders association said that cattle feeders, hit by the 10 per cent rollback on cattle prices May 20, are fattening their animals this month to get a better sale price, gambling that government price controls will be lifted June 30.

Disalle, meanwhile, told Congress that the administration's entire wage-price program hinges on effective beef price controls. But the House Agriculture committee was reported planning to demand cancellation of a series of price rollbacks on cattle. Rollbacks of four and a half per cent are scheduled on Aug. 1 and Oct. 1.

Truman's Home Solon Indicted

KANSAS CITY—(AP)—President Truman's congressman, Leonard Irving (D-Mo.) flatly denies federal charges that he misused funds of a labor union in his 1948 election campaign.

A federal grand jury indicted the 53-year-old representative from Missouri's fourth district yesterday on charges of violating the corrupt practices act and the Taft-Hartley law. The two indictments each contained 12 counts based on alleged expenditure of $3,000 in funds of the International Hod Carriers, Building and Construction Union (AFL).

His attorney, Cliff Langsdale, said Irving will enter a plea of innocent Monday before U. S. District Judge Richard M. Duncan at which time bail probably will be fixed and posted.

Irving, whose district includes President Truman's home town of Independence, protested that he had not been permitted to testify before the grand jury and asserted that two men who did testify had attempted to blackmail him. He did not name the two.

Iron Mountain Boy, 6, Drowns In Old Pit

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—(AP)—Six year old Don Lee Goodchild drowned last evening in Chapin pit, a cave-in and flooded iron mine in the heart of the city. The child fell into the pit while playing on the shore with a companion, Arthur Tremain, 7.

Tremain also fell into the water but crawled out after trying vainly to help his playmate. Iron Mountain firemen found the Goodchild boy's body in about 20 feet of water. They vainly gave him artificial respiration for 45 minutes.

Sugar Quota For U. S. Up 250,000 Tons

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The 1951 quota supply of sugar for the United States is 250,000 tons above that of 1950.

This was announced yesterday by the agriculture department. The 1951 figure is 8,250,000 tons. Cuba got permission to send to the United States 246,000 of the increased quota. The department said quota imports were being upped to meet increased sugar use.

Marshall And Ridgway Hold Secret Session

Peace Rumors Heard Again In Tokyo

By WILLIAM C. BARNARD

TOKYO—(AP)—Secretary of Defense George C. Marshall and Gen. Matthew M. Ridgway spent many closely-guarded hours in conference today, sharpening speculation that something big was going to break in the Korean war.

At mid-day the two military leaders met for more than an hour at Ridgway's headquarters.

Later they lunched at the U. S. embassy and resumed sessions that continued late into the afternoon. There was no official announcement after the meetings.

Republic Fights On

Marshall has given no indication of the purpose of his visit except to say it was "purely military."

It stirred up peace rumors in Tokyo and the war area. In Pusan, Korea, the disturbed South Korean legislature asked the republic's defense and foreign ministers for their opinion on the Marshall visit.

Syngman Rhee, president of the Korean republic, said Koreans "will do something in desperation if the United Nations should make any decision contrary to our national security."

He was referring to rumors of a ceasefire at the 38th parallel—old political boundary between Red North and Republican South Korea.

"We are fighting and will continue to fight to do without such a line," he declared. "Our aim and determination to fight Communism will never change."

No Comment

Republican Foreign Minister Pyun Yung Tai said in a statement any ceasefire at the parallel

Hunt On For British Diplomats Missing Behind Iron Curtain

LONDON — (AP)—The hunt for two missing top-drawer British diplomats widened suddenly from France to Italy today after the foreign office disclosed a telegram to a relative of one of them was sent from Rome.

A British embassy official in Rome said that even though the message did come from the Italian city it was not conclusive evidence the missing men had been there. Nevertheless, some French police officials, after a thorough combing of Paris, expressed belief the men are not in Paris and may have gone to Italy.

Hold Top Secrets

Both diplomats—Guy Burgess, a former British embassy official in Washington; and Donald D. MacLean, head of the foreign office American section—know high level British-American secrets. Fear has been expressed in London and in Washington that they may have ducked behind the Iron Curtain. The incident put a new strain on British-American relations.

A foreign office spokesman said there would be a statement on the disappearances in the House of Commons on Monday, probably by foreign secretary Herbert Morrison.

The foreign office said the Rome message was to Burgess' mother, Mrs. J. R. Bassett, and related that Burgess, 40 and a bachelor was going on a "long Mediterranean holiday." It was sent Thursday.

Two other messages, to MacLean's wife and mother, were sent from Paris Wednesday. The latter two were reported sent by a mysterious third person. The men have been missing since May 26, MacLean's 38th birthday.

Top Sleuth On Trail

Thousands of detectives and intelligence agents were engaged in the hunt for Burgess and MacLean. It bid fair to be the biggest manhunt in European history.

Reports that L. E. Wilkinson, deputy superintendent of Scotland Yard's famed counterespionage division, the Special Branch had flown to Paris to aid were denied today. The Yard said Wilkinson, an expert on Soviet spy methods, was on leave somewhere in England.

3 Bound Over In Liquor Cases

Youths Accused Of Breaking, Entering

Three 16-year-old youths have been bound over to circuit court on charges of breaking and entering liquor cars at the Liquor Control Commission yard, Chief of Police M. F. Ettenhofer has announced. The probate court has waived jurisdiction in each case.

The three are William E. Meshigaud, 719 Ludington street; Joseph E. Polequin, 331 N. 12th street; and Robert H. Norman, 330 N. 13th street.

Meshigaud was charged with two offenses, March 24 and April 13. Polequin was charged with four offenses, March 24, April 13, April 16 and April 29, and Norman was charged with three offenses, April 13, April 16 and April 29. Bond of $500 was fixed for each case, a total of $1,000 for Meshigaud, $2,000 for Polequin and $1,500 for Norman.

All were committed to county jail pending circuit court action as bonds were not provided.

Olson Appointed Editor Of Fort Knox Newspaper

FORT KNOX, Ky.—Pvt. Harold R. Olson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy A. Olson, 1420 South Seventh avenue, Escanaba, has been named managing editor of the "CC-Bee", regimental newspaper published here in the Army's 3d Armored Division.

Pvt. Olson is well fitted for his job, having been graduated from Michigan State College with a degree in advertising and journalism. He was named to his new position after completing his basic training and the eight-week Leaders' Course.

After finishing college, Pvt. Olson was employed for several months at a New York advertising agency, and while at college he worked at the school radio station, WKAR, and on the school paper, "The Michigan State News." He worked one summer on the "Delta Reporter" in Gladstone, and prior to attending college, for two years on radio station WDBC in Escanaba.

He was inducted into the Army last Oct. 4.

Delta's Direct Relief Cost Reduced By Half

Delta county's direct relief cases and their cost for the first three months this year are more than 50 per cent below figures for the same period in 1950, according to a comparative quarterly report issued today by the Delta County Social Welfare Board.

Improved employment conditions in the Delta area so far this year are indicated in the report from A. M. Gilbert, social welfare department director.

In the first quarter of this year there were no employable persons receiving direct relief assistance. Last year in the first quarter the number of employables on relief ranged from 209 to 235.

Medical Supplement

The comparative quarterly report of direct relief cases is divided into total cases, medical supplement cases, and direct relief cases.

Separation of direct relief and medical supplement cases for purpose of the report clarifies a relief category not generally understood.

Medical supplement cases are persons on old age assistance, aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind who are given medical care only for acute illness.

Adopt Policy

Some counties do not provide medical supplement and others give it only sparingly.

"There is no provision for acute medical care in Old Age Assistance, Aid to Dependent Children or Aid to the Blind cases, although an allowance can be made for chronic medical care which is of 90 days or more duration," Gilbert said.

	Total Cases	Medical Supplement	Direct Relief	Employable Cases	Amount

Old Blacksmith Building Razed

Another old Escanaba landmark, the building at 111 South 8th street, is being razed to make way for progress.

The north half of the building was first used as a wagon painting and repair shop by Mort Hitchcock, who owned some fine racing horses at that time. Adam Henry, a blacksmith, rented the south half of the shop.

About the same time, Charles Gagnon, the Escanaba better known as "Popcorn Charlie," used an upstairs room as a paint shop. About 1914, Horace Provo, Escanaba business man used the upstairs room as a workshop for approximately a year, then moved to the Iron Port newspaper building. At that time a blacksmith shop, owned by Joseph Boyer, occupied the lower floor.

The building was built by Frank

Delta Cancer Drive Success

$4,344 Fund Raised, Exceeding Quota

A total of $4,344.33 has been contributed in the Delta County Cancer fund campaign, exceeding the $3,000 goal, according to a final report issued today by the Delta County Cancer Society.

Public generosity toward encouragement of cancer education, service and control is indicated in the success of the fund drive, said Atty. Harlan J. Yelland, county chairman.

The Delta County Cancer Society, affiliated with the Michigan division of the American Cancer Society, has carried on an active program in the county.

Last year there were 59 deaths from cancer in the county, and the local unit is establishing an appropriate memorial card service for those who wish to contribute to the "fight cancer" cause in remembrance of a cancer victim at the time of death.

Local cancer education and service programs are maintained and nationally grants in millions of dollars are made for research by the American Cancer Society.

The Delta county campaign committee comprised Atty. Yelland, county chairman; Atty. William Anderson, Escanaba chairman; Atty. Clair J. Hoehn, northern townships; Jack Miller, eastern townships; Leo Brunelle, western townships; Ross Davis, Gladstone chairman; Atty. John G. Erickson, special gifts; Thomas M. Goedert, labor chairman.

OPS Officials Will Tour U. P.

To Address Meeting Here On Wednesday

Two food specialists from the Grand Rapids District Office of Price Stabilization will conduct meetings with retail meat dealers in five Upper Peninsula cities during the week beginning June 11, District OPS director Everett J. Davis announced today.

Harold P. Stuart, chief of the food division, and Frank Losey, meat specialist, will explain ceiling price regulation 25, which establishes the maximum prices that grocers and butchers can charge for retail cuts of beef used by the every-day consumer. Retail beef ceilings went into effect May 14, and at present meat retailers are required to display their individual prices for cuts of beef by grade. Different grades of beef must be displayed in a different tray, with each tray bearing the proper price.

June 18 Deadline

"While retail beef ceilings already are in effect, these meetings will give meat dealers an opportunity to iron out questions and misunderstandings before the June 18 deadline for posting official beef ceiling prices in each meat market and grocery store," Davis said.

The original deadline was June 4 for posting ceiling prices where they are plainly visible to buyers. This deadline was recently extended. Official ceiling price lists will be mailed to all meat dealers who have filed with OPS as soon as they are received from the government printing office, Davis stated.

U. P. Schedule

Although the Upper Peninsula meetings were scheduled primarily for retail meat dealers, Stuart and Losey will also cover retail grocer regulations (RPR 15 and 16) and the restaurant and tavern regulation (CPR 11) for seasonal operators and others who were unable to attend meetings already held.

Following is the schedule:

Manistiquie, Tuesday, June 12, 7:30 p. m., Court house.

Summer School Band Program Opens Monday

Members of the four school bands of Escanaba will start their summer program this coming week. A beginning grade school group of about 40 members, two junior high school bands of about 48 each, and a senior high school band of 65 are contemplated this coming school year, and all of these are invited and urged to take part in the summer program whenever in town during the summer.

Red Cross Will Begin First Aid

Classes Here On June 13, 14 and 19

Red Cross advanced first aid classes will be conducted here on June 13, 14 and 19, it was announced today by the local Red Cross office.

All persons who have completed the standard first aid course are eligible to enroll in the advanced course. Instructors will be Mrs. Arthur Kent and Stanley Leishman. Classes will be conducted at the Wells school from 7:30 to 10:30 each evening.

A large enrollment in the advanced course is desired, a local Red Cross official said, in order to provide a large group for the instructor's course. This course will be given here on June 25 at 29, with an area representative from St. Louis, Mo., in charge.

David Walch Plans Europe Study-Tour

David W. Walch, son of Dr. and Mrs. John J. Walch of 709 Fifth avenue south, who recently completed his junior year at Williams College, Williamstown, Mass., will leave June 15 for a summer study-tour of continental Europe and the British Isles.

At Genoa he will be joined by two friends, one a Williams College student and the other from Yale, and they will begin their tour by auto.

Social and economic conditions will be observed by the trio in their trip through Europe. Walch is majoring economics at Williams.

They will return to the United States in late August after concluding their tour of the British Isles.

May Will Talk About Arabia

At Kiwanis Club Luncheon Monday

Alfred B. (Curly) May, 1417 First avenue north, who recently arrived here on a 90-day leave from Saudi Arabia, will describe his experiences overseas in a talk at the meeting of the Kiwanis club at the House of Ludington Monday noon.

May, a former Gladstone policeman, has spent two years with Aramco, a Standard Oil company affiliate which has the concession for the production of oil in Saudi Arabia.

Aramco now has four oil fields operating, and intends to add two more, May said. Present production is about 700,000 barrels a day. May is employed as senior operator at the stabilizer plant in Abqaiq, which eliminates H<sub>2</sub>S gas from the oil before it is transmitted by 31-inch pipelines to Sidon, seaport between Haifa and Beyruth.

Absolute ruler of Saudi Arabia is King Ibn Saud, who collects royalties on the oil produced by Aramco.

Abqaiq is a town of about 9,000, including 1,100 American employees of Aramco. Arabs are used in the oil fields as manual laborers, although a number of them are being trained to take over technical and supervisory duties, May said.

Aramco employs about 2,700 Americans and 20,000 Arabs in Saudi Arabia. May will return to work on a two-year contract, beginning Aug. 8. His brother, Addison, has been employed in Saudi Arabia for five and a half years. May worked 14 years as a member of the Gladstone police department and seven and a half years as special agent with the Milwaukee Road at Milwaukee.

Eskimos In Alaska Put On Celebration For Big Whale Kill

FAIRBANKS, Alaska—(AP)—Prosperity and plenty have come to Alaska's Eskimos. They are celebrating an unprecedented catch of 11 whales.

They caught seven at Point Barrow, the northernmost tip of the continent, and four near Kotzebue, northeast of Bering Strait.

They have caught inflation, too. At present inflated prices, whale meat, or muk tuk, is bringing a dollar a pound in Eskimo villages where defense projects and oil exploration work has provided the natives with plenty of cash.

The Eskimo village at Point Hope has scheduled a "milikukut" to celebrate the bonanza. That's a whing-ding whale feast.

Cliff's Victory Cut 20 Hours Off Record With Iron Ore Cargo

CLEVELAND—(AP)—The Cliff's Victory, speedy carrier of the Great Lakes, steamed into Cleveland harbor Friday from Marquette, Mich., breaking the old record running time by 20 hours.

Just 37 hours before, the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co. vessel left Marquette on Lake Superior with a load of 13,089 gross tons of ore. That made for an average speed of 18 miles per hour.

The ship was built for ocean duty and is 620 feet long.

Henceforth, the company announced, the ship will be used on longer runs from Duluth to Lake Erie ports to take advantage of her speed.

Electronics

Raydist Helps Survey Lake Michigan Waters

Raydist, an electronic handyman, new crew member aboard the U. S. Lakes Survey ship Williams based at Escanaba, is being tested for performance this summer.

And raydist undoubtedly will prove as valuable in surveying Green bay and Lake Michigan waters as it was in survey work for the government in the Gulf of Mexico.

Briefly raydist is a method of surveying by use of radio waves. These waves, plus some electrical measuring devices, are used to do the same job on water the ordinary surveyor does on land with a transit plus a steel measuring tape.

For New Charts
Radar as well as raydist has been added to the equipment of the U. S. Lakes Survey ship this year. The Williams already was supplied with supersonic depth recorders, gyro compass, direction finder and radio telephone.

The Williams returned to Escanaba this spring after spending the winter at its Detroit base. Its purpose here is to take soundings and compile other data that will be incorporated in new navigation charts for Green bay and Lake Michigan.

Raydist can speed this work and reduce the possibility of error, says F. W. Robison, chief of survey operations aboard the Williams.

Reduced to ultimate simplicity, raydist is a means by which the Williams will be able to determine her position while in sounding operations. This position is measured and noted on a chart, so the depth of water (taken by the supersonic depth recorder) can be established and recorded as the ship moves along.

Three Shore Stations
Raydist measures distance by using radio waves. Computations are made in advance as to where radio waves from two fixed stations will be in phase, and those are marked on a map. The transmitter at Minneapolis Shola lighthouse located 12 miles south of Escanaba in Green bay will serve as reference for the Williams.

Then by using three additional shore stations an additional two sets of lines can be traced on the map in the Williams' pilot house. These lines cross each other in a lattice-work.

The three relay shore stations to be established will be at the Aldrich Raymond farm at Burnt Bluff south of Fayette, at Breezy Point south of Escanaba on the bay shore, and Boyer Bluff on Wash-

Helps Survey Lake Michigan Waters

When the Williams leaves Escanaba, counters are set on two phase meters to check with the numbered lines on the map at the Escanaba location. Then as the boat moves around on the bay, each phase meter adds or subtracts one number on the counter each time the ship reaches the next line.

Period of Testing
Locating the position of the boat on the map is simple: The two meters are read, the corresponding numbered lines are found on the map, and the boat is where the two lines cross each other.

While the explanation may sound comparatively simple and the operation not too difficult, the raydist equipment and set-up for the area involves many technical complexities. For this reason most of this summer will be devoted to testing the new equipment on the Williams.

Officials of the U. S. Lakes Survey and the Hastings Instrument company of Hampton, Va., are expected to come and go from Escanaba while the tests are being conducted. Escanaba was chosen as the ship's base because air service here provides greater opportunity for technicians and officials of the U. S. Corps of Engineers to reach the Williams.

Last summer the Lakes Survey crew made soundings in Green bay from Chambers Island south—where they found shoals not shown on the existing charts.

Uncharted Shoals
The charts, made many years ago, showed a clear 50 feet of water in those locations, yet the Williams' crew discovered two 18-foot shoals between Green Island and Peshtigo, and a 19-foot spot off Oconto. Sweep sounding on those shoal areas will be done this summer to complete the findings.

It is possible that additional unreported shoals will be discovered in upper Green bay and northern Lake Michigan water this summer after the testing period is ended.

But it is not anticipated that anything so startling as the discovery of the "lost mountain range" in Lake Superior will be encountered.

That was back in 1941 when the Lakes Survey was using the historic old ship Peary in sounding Lake Superior in an area where a number of ships had mysteriously disappeared in the past.

Underwater Mountain
In fact the Peary herself had almost been destroyed there in 1918 when she was in war service as a mine sweeper. Two other vessels were wrecked at that time, but the Peary returned 23 years later as a Lakes Survey vessel to find the answer—pinnacles of rock reaching within 21 feet of the surface.

These pinnacles were the tops of underwater mountain crags. On each side the water dropped off to a depth of 400 feet.
Last October at Escanaba the Lakes Survey crew completed a bit of triangulation that definitely established the location of Minneapolis Shoal lighthouse. Robison said the correction was slight, but the location is now definitely fixed for navigation chart purposes.

Sounding in the northern Green bay area will be made back and forth on lines about 2,000 feet apart starting at a water depth of 20 feet. In soundings on the bay the lines will run in a north-westerly or southeasterly direction.

Aid to Shipping
In addition to sounding, water temperatures, both surface and subsurface, will be recorded. Gages are established to establish soundings in relation to low water datum which for Lake Michigan and Green bay is 578.5 feet above mean tide at New York.

Bottom characteristics will be determined by taking samples. Altogether the new and more accurate information will provide mariners with navigation charts that tell not only the location of shoals and other shipping hazards, but

Ballot Monday Will Elect Trustees In All Districts

School districts of Delta county, excepting Gladstone, will on Monday, June 11, hold elections to name trustees for terms varying from one to three years. Gladstone's school election will be held July 9.

In some districts special questions relating to the schools also will be presented to the voters.

Escanaba city school district will elect two trustees for terms of four years each, beginning July 1. The two candidates, incumbents and unopposed, are Harold E. Crebo and Dr. Fred J. Hirn.

City Polling Places
Polls will be open in the city from 8 a. m. to 8 p. m. at the following places: City hall for the city's first, second, third and eighth precincts; Jefferson school (Second avenue and South 15th street) for the city's fourth, fifth and sixth city precincts; No. 2 fire station on Sheridan road for the city's seventh precinct.

Among the township school districts in Delta county with special questions to be placed before the voters in addition to election of trustees are the following:
Garden—Question of bonding the school district for $25,000 to assist in construction of the Catherine Bonifas grade school. Mrs. Bonifas bequeathed $150,000 for the project.

Special Ballots
Escanaba township—Special ballot asking authority of the voters for the board of education to sell Carroll, Sovey, Howard and Nadon school buildings, now unused. Another ballot, sponsored by the township board, asks authority to turn over surplus township funds for the school building, and site fund.

Cornell—Transportation of seventh and eighth grade students to Escanaba junior high school.

Wells—Special ballot sponsored by the township board asking authority of the voters to turn over surplus money in the township contingent fund to the Wells school district. Wells township school district has a contest for board of education trustee. Candidates are incumbents Clarence Sundquist and Louis Dufour. The others are Elair Vanierberghe Jr., and Conrad Hereau.

Lansing Folks Plan To Buy Diploma For Broke MSC Veteran

LANSING—(AP)—The Lansing State Journal started a campaign Friday to "buy" a diploma for Robert Munya, a hospitalized navy veteran at Michigan State college. The college complained that was not necessary.

Munya, of Highland Park, can't receive his diploma until he pays $108 he owes as rent for barracks housing at the college.

Munya, who is married and has two children, slipped and fell May 8 on a flight of steps in the college married housing area.

At the college hospital it was discovered his leg was broken. A silver nail was put through his knee and he was hung in traction—where he stayed while the rest of his class graduated.

It was the climax of a run of bad luck for Munya. Last summer his two-year-old daughter had polio and still wears a brace. His payments under the GI bill expired in December. And two weeks before the accident he lost the temporary job that helped pay expenses.

Aid to dependent children is helping pay for groceries and the college is taking care of the hospitalization except for surgical bills. But Munya could not manage $108 to make him eligible for the diploma.

Mink, Skunk Kill Reduced

Conservation Dept. Issues Report

A record low number of mink and skunks were bagged by hunters and trappers in Michigan in the 1950-51 season, a conservation department tally of report cards indicates.

Nearly 18,000 mink were taken by 7,695 hunters and trappers as compared to over 22,000 by 9,770 persons in the 1949-50 hunting period, the previous season low.

Department tabulations show about 10,280 skunks were taken by 5,690 hunters and trappers, the lowest harvest since 1947-48 period when 12,200 were bagged by 5,340 persons.

Quantity of mink taken appears to fluctuate directly with the number of hunters after them, judging from record comparison of previous years. And the season last fall found few persons out because of the poor hunting weather. Those persons who sought mink did average a fair 2.2 animals each by hunting, 2.4 each by trapping.

Game biologists remind that skunks have not been plentiful since the 1941 die-off resulting from disease.

Raccoon hunters, while failing to do as good as before, cropped 3.8 animals each, trappers 2.8 animals each. About 76,215 raccoons were taken by 20,510 hunters and trappers as contrasted to 87,440 harvested by 14,260 persons in 1949-50. About 65,900 raccoons were taken in the southern lower peninsula.

Skin prices generally were better for all three fur-bearing species, with raccoons bringing as much as 100 percent more in some cases.

The United States is the world's largest producer of oysters, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

City's Electric Problem Can Not Be Indefinitely Postponed

C. M. CUNNINGHAM, comptroller for the Mead Corporation, Chillicothe, Ohio, gave an extremely frank presentation of the electric problem as it applies to Escanaba in an informal discussion with the Escanaba city council Thursday afternoon.

What he said at that meeting is of considerable importance to everyone in Escanaba because electric power is in a sense community lifeblood. A community needs a reliable source of electric power as much as it needs a water supply, police and fire services, etc.

Cunningham told the city councilmen that the Upper Michigan Power and Light company, subsidiary of the Mead Corporation, cannot renew its contract to provide electric service to Escanaba after the expiration of the present contract, which runs to 1959. Further, the power company would welcome an opportunity to be relieved of the city electric load at an earlier date, Cunningham said.

There is no immediate prospect of getting the volume of power needed from any other existing source so the city is confronted with the prospect of providing its own generating capacity. The present electric load of 21,000,000 kwh. annually is on an accelerating trend, projections of which indicate a probable load of 35,000,000 kwh. in 1959 when the present contract expires.

Probers Must Maintain Attitude Of Fairness

THE Senate MacArthur hearings now are entering their critical phase. The senators are on test to demonstrate that they can confine their inquiry to the purposes for which it was undertaken.

When the investigation began a month ago, it was dedicated to exploring the circumstances surrounding the dismissal of General MacArthur, and related military and foreign policy issues.

Up to this point, the proceedings have generally adhered to this purpose, though far from perfectly. Some senators have insisted on dwelling long on issues widely removed from the main path. Some have belabored points that already have been dealt with again and again.

But mostly the questioning has focused on the MacArthur case and its effects on wider policy. In pursuit of its basic aim, the Senate investigating group properly had to interrogate MacArthur himself, the joint chiefs of staff, Secretary of Defense Marshall and Secretary of State Acheson. Beyond these there may be a handful of others who can contribute to a responsible inquiry.

Senator Russell of Georgia, chairman of the group, has announced, however, that he has a list of more than 100 prospective witnesses. It is hard to imagine more than 10 per cent of these with anything to say about the MacArthur affair that is based on first-hand knowledge.

This investigation clearly was not intended to provide a general and continuing forum on American foreign policy in all its aspects. But that is what it would tend to become if it should drag on long enough to hear another 100 witnesses, or even half that number.

The moment has come for the participating senators to show that they are capable of disciplining themselves in inquiries of this sort. Heretofore major congressional investigations with heavy partisan overtones have almost inevitably degenerated into wild political carnivals. The search for truth, for real guidance in the making of laws, has been lost in the shuffle.

The MacArthur hearings set a high standard of performance in the beginning. Since then there have been some marked lapses, but they have not yet degenerated into the customary chaos. If they do, then the average American citizen will be likely to conclude that the U. S. Senate is incapable of conducting a wholly statesmanlike investigation.

Senator Cain of Washington did nothing to increase the citizen's respect for the Senate when he proposed solemnly that the investigators invite the testimony of William H. Evans, young navy lieutenant discharged for writing an intemperate letter in criticism of American policy.

But Senator Russell and his committee colleagues will be better advised if they bring the MacArthur proceedings to a close as quickly as possible after Acheson has wound up his testimony. By that time, the overwhelming bulk of vital evidence will be in Senate hands. It should be more than ample to allow the Senate to judge the merits of MacArthur's dismissal and weigh the main elements of U. S. Far Eastern policy.

After all, the Senate is judged not merely by the questions it asks, but by what it does. And this year it has not done very much. It is perhaps not unfair to suggest that the Senate soon set aside its glamorous job of investigating for the grubby but essential task of lawmaking.

When at church you watch the choir as it marches down the aisle, with the flowing robes of black and white arranged in double file, comes the end of the procession and some singers very small, and among them is your Junior who is giving it his all. Like a scrubbed and shining cherub he is singing out his part, and you realize that Junior must have had a change of heart.

Could it be that he's the grimy kid of only yesterday, when he joined with kindred hellions in a hectic round of play? Could it be that he's the one who helped upset the neighborhood, with the kind of youthful stunts that never lead to any good? Could he be the lad who now and then engages in a fight, or perhaps was one of those who caused a broken window light?

Well, if Junior was a wayward boy, he's sure an angel now, looking heavenward with not a care to crease his freckled brow. You would think that he's an innocent, incapable of wrong, as with loving smile he faces you and softly sings his song. Then you understand that Junior, though his pranks sometimes annoy, is, thank God, what you would have him be—a healthy growing boy.

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Col. Robert McCormick, potent publisher of the Chicago Tribune, is working on some secret strategy which he hopes will throw the presidency of the United States into his lap in 1952.

On the surface McCormick gives all signs of backing his good friend, Sen. Bob Taft. Actually, however, McCormick favors his able, up-and-coming protégé, Sen. Everett Dirksen, the recently elected solon from Pekin, Ill.

McCormick's strategy in this situation is quite simple. At the Chicago convention in '52, he will work for a deadlock between the two leading candidates—probably Taft and Eisenhower. Once he's maneuvered the convention into a stalemate, he will pass out word that the only way to break the deadlock is to nominate Senator Dirksen.

If this deadlock does develop, Dirksen might have a chance of securing the nomination. He's a well-known and well-liked figure in top Republican circles. And since the convention will be in Chicago, there's bound to be a lot of Dirksen support in the ever-vocal galleries.

Note—The irony is that Dirksen by himself would make a good president; but Dirksen bogged down by Chicago Tribune policies would not.

CHINA LOBBY

When Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon asked Secretary of State Acheson about the China lobby during one of the closed-door sessions of the MacArthur hearings you could have heard a pin drop.

For the China lobby has become at the same time one of the most sacrosanct and most powerful in Washington. It is sacrosanct because so many senators have been influenced by it, have close friends in it, or have received actual campaign contributions from it.

It is powerful because it has the millions of Chiang Kai-shek's brothers-in-law behind it, plus some of the most potent political figures in Washington. Louey Johnson, ex-secretary of defense, for instance has been the personal attorney for Chiang's millionaire brother-in-law, Dr. H. H. Kung.

As a result of its powers, many observers believe that a lot of the agitation over Formosa, aid to Chiang, etc., stems originally from the China lobby. Yet few people on Capitol Hill say much about the lobby, and it has never been investigated.

That was why there was a long silence when Senator Morse popped his question. That was also why the silence was broken by a surprised whistle from Sen. Brien McMahon of Connecticut. And that may or may not have been why Chairman Russell of Georgia tapped his gavel and said: "The senator has exceeded his time, and will have to ask the question tomorrow if he wishes."

HE LECTURED PERON

Not many people have told President Peron of Argentina what they thought of him face to face. However, this was what William J. Kennedy, chairman of the Railroad Retirement board, did during a recent visit to Argentina as a U. S. delegate to the Inter-American Conference on Social Security.

Kennedy, a wiry, gray haired man who likes to speak his mind, collared Peron at an official dinner and in the presence of one other person—an interpreter—proceeded to give him a brisk lecture on freedom of the press. He had in mind, of course, Peron's closing of the great opposition newspaper, La Prensa.

"Don't you realize that a little opposition is a good thing?" Kennedy asked Peron. "Don't you realize that Franklin D. Roosevelt was elected president of the United States not once, twice or three times, but four times, even though he was opposed by the great majority of our newspapers?"

"Constructive criticism from the press or any other source has never harmed anyone," continued the American official.

Kennedy was sincerely trying to find out what defense, if any, Peron would offer for closing down La Prensa, other than the newspaper's criticism of his totalitarian policies. However, Peron didn't attempt to defend his action.

Though Kennedy's two-fisted remarks were carefully translated by the interpreter, President Peron made no reply. His only reaction was an enigmatic smile, even when Kennedy taunted him:

"The trouble with you, Mr. President, is that you've got a glass chin."

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba — Puckelwartz will be in the backfield for the Chicago Rockets when the latter tackle the Chicago Bombers in a women's professional football game in Gladstone on July 4. But it won't be Bill Puckelwartz, it will be his cousin, Irene, 19-year-old coed of Wright college now known as the "passing sensation" of the women's pigskin sport.

Manistique—Honor students of Manistique high school were guests of the Manistique Rotary club at the weekly luncheon yesterday noon at the American Legion cottage. Students honored were Robert Beauvais, Alvin Peterson, Marion Wiedland, Dotty Lou Lundstrom, Leocadia Oleak, Jean Grimley, Mary Cayia, Jennie Murphy, Dan Murphy, Lucille Jolly and Dorothy Curran.

20 YEARS AGO

Weihaiwei, China—The American salvage ship Pigeon tonight was ransacking to join British and Japanese vessels trying to raise the British submarine Poseidon in the Yellow Sea, but hope had been virtually abandoned that any of the 18 men trapped in the boat were alive.

Escanaba—The annual Honor Day program will be held at Escanaba high school auditorium this afternoon. The Honor Day program marks the formal opening of the graduation exercises of the 1931 senior class, the fiftieth class to graduate from Escanaba high school.

Gladstone—Rev. Maier will speak at the closing exercises at the All Saints' parochial school this evening at the high school auditorium at which time 27 eighth grade pupils will receive diplomas marking the end of their primary schooling.

Jap Aid Of Master Spy Sorge Discovered Espionage, Like Love, Was Falling Star

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A

Japanese, Ozaki Hozumi, was the only member of Richard Sorge's Soviet spy ring in Tokyo who collected the gallows with him. The punishment was a tribute to his importance.

Ozaki was Sorge's chief lieutenant and his prime source of information in high Japanese circles. He served part of the critical pre-war period as unofficial adviser to the Japanese cabinet. Many of the most prized secrets passed to Russia by Sorge came originally from Ozaki.

As told by Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby in his report on Sorge to the Pentagon, Ozaki seemed headed for a brilliant but wholly legitimate career from the moment he hit college. He studied law at Tokyo's Imperial University, then looked into graduate economics and sociology.

Next he joined the Tokyo newspaper, Asahi Shimbun, was transferred to the Osaka Asahi, and sent to Shanghai as correspondent. Quickly he made himself an expert on Chinese affairs.

He also began associating with leftist groups. Hanging around a bookshop on Soochow Creek in Shanghai, he was introduced to Miss Agnes Smedley, an American writing for the German Frankfurter Zeitung. They became fast friends, and she lured him into the Communist fold.

Casually they started trading information. Though he didn't know it then, that was his initiation as a Soviet agent. At length Miss Smedley took him to Sorge, then posing as an American, "Johnson," and running a Russian network in China. Ozaki agreed to work for Sorge, who told him his Asahi and other Jap connections would be invaluable to the Cause.

His Moscow superiors were the Red Army's famous 4th Bureau intelligence unit. But Ozaki never heard of that organization until Jap authorities mentioned it after his 1941 arrest.

His link with Sorge was broken for a while when the Asahi ordered him home to Japan. By now, Ozaki was a prolific writer and a recognized China expert. His mind was acutely analytical and his viewpoint widely sought. Yet in all his writings he never betrayed his Communist leanings.

Sorge needed a man of Ozaki's standing and contacts when he put together his new ring in Japan. Once more, Ozaki agreed. He and Miyagi, the other Jap prominent in the Sorge group, each organized secondary networks which drew in a wide range of detailed information.

Ozaki had only the vaguest notion of Sorge's organization, and never met the valuable Yugoslav, Branko de Voukitch. But he saw Miyagi often at the Ozaki home, since he came to give his daughter painting lessons. Ozaki's wife never knew what her husband was up to.

Talking freely to the Japanese after his arrest, Ozaki set down how he thought a good spy ought to operate:

"Never give the impression you are eager to obtain news. Men who are engaged in important affairs will refuse to talk to you if they suspect your motive is to collect information.

"In these days of unrest you cannot be a good intelligence man unless you yourself are a good source of information. You can achieve this only after constant study and wide experience."

It's wise to be a specialist of some kind, he added. "I was able to gather much valuable data from men who came to ask ME questions."

Above all, he said, "you must cultivate trust and confidence in you on the part of those you are using as informants, to be able to military dispositions. The railway traded data with large Japanese industrial groups, so Ozaki was privy to the deepest economic secrets.

He never saw himself as a mere transmitter of information. He stored up his facts, weighed them tested them in discussion, and finally passed his conclusions to Sorge. He found it easy to get documents. How could he give his friends the advice they sought without seeing them?

Often his judgments proved remarkably sound. He correctly forecast that Japan in 1941 would move south through Indo-China, toward Singapore and the Dutch East Indies. He concluded compromise with the U. S. and Britain was impossible and that war would come.

He was still sailing along in his useful railway post when the spy network collapsed. The confession of a minor woman member implicated Miyagi. His empty house was used as bait to trap callers, and one of these was Ozaki. On Oct. 14 he was behind bars.

He'd always been fatalistic about what would happen if he were ever caught. He expected it. In this he wasn't disappointed.

After his appeal failed in 1944, it was just a matter of waiting. Ozaki filled his dreary days with endless letters to his wife, some of which were published under the title, "Love Was Like a Falling Star."

He didn't know what day would be his last. On Nov. 7, as he was finishing a postcard, the governor of Sugamo prison entered his cell. The meaning of the visit was clear. Ozaki changed into clean clothes he'd been saving, and walked to the death house. In a little ante room with a Buddhist altar, he paused to kneel in prayer. Then he passed into the death chamber. As he stopped reciting a Buddhist ritual of comfort, the trap was sprung.

Half an hour after he was pronounced dead, Richard Sorge, his trusted mentor, followed him to the gallows.

All these rules Ozaki himself followed closely. His expertise on China won him a spot in 1937 in the China section of the Showa Study Group, sponsored by Prince Konohe, who was three times Japan's premier between that year and 1939. Ozaki became head of the China section when his predecessor, Kazami Akira, was named chief secretary in Konohe's first cabinet.

In 1938, the Jap Foreign Office set up an agency in Peiping to study North China conditions. Kazami picked Ozaki to be the group's Tokyo adviser. Thus he became an unofficial adviser to the Konohe cabinet, a post he held until that cabinet fell in January, 1939.

The fruits of this assignment included access to many important state documents. Another help was his friendship with two old college chums who were privy secretaries to Konohe.

This pair set up an informal discussion society known variously as the Wednesday Group and the Breakfast Group. Members were bright young men around Konohe. Writers and other well-informed Japanese were invited to join the lively discussions of current affairs and policies. For Ozaki, this was a gold mine.

When the Konohe cabinet toppled, he was put on as adviser to the South Manchuria Railway, a virtual economic empire in Jap-controlled Manchuria. In this listening post he learned everything there was to know of Jap plans toward Siberia, the development of industry in Manchuria, and

Good Evening . . .

By CLINT DUNATHAN

THE BIG JOB—Mighty pretty boat down at Municipal dock in Escanaba. Trim and neat in the bright sunshine.

On the bow is the name Williams, elsewhere is the twin towers insignia of the U. S. Army Corps of Engineers. It is a ship of the U. S. Lakes Survey, returned to Escanaba to continue soundings in connection with the production of new navigation charts for Green Bay and Lake Michigan.

As we approached, three or four men left the boat carrying square boxes painted ship's gray. Out of the top they pulled extension antenna. Some kind of portable radio transmitters, we guessed.

F. W. Robison, comfortable in tee shirt and sneakers without socks, welcomed us like an old friend. He is chief of survey for the U. S. Lakes Survey and is not of the military.

"Come aboard," he invited, "I'll show you our new equipment."

BEETS AND RADAR—Across the dock roadway we went, onto the Williams and thence through a screened door, stopping high over a metal hurdle designed to keep water from washing into the ship's interior during rough weather.

In the narrow passageway we almost bumped into a cook coming from the galley with a plate of pickled beets in his hand. He was heading for the dining room—if such it is called.

Then up a metal ladder to what we suppose is the chart room, there to be confronted with a couple of impressive phase meters—staring at us with motionless indicators.

It was part of the raydist equipment to be used in survey work and Robison told us about it in considerable detail.

"You know," we told him, "if you have something in nontechnical terms to describe this—"

Laughing, Robison brought out a piece apparently written for chaps like me, whose experience in electronics is strictly limited to tuning in or out the local radio station.

ON FIRMER GROUND—We have no intention of trying to translate raydist into layman terms in a few well chosen words. You can read that on another page. From the chart room (if such it was) we went to the pilot house.

"This is our radar," said Robison, giving it a loving pat. He took off a cloth cover, dusted the amber face of the circular screen, and replaced the cover.

His pride was evident in the new equipment installed on the Williams last winter while she was in base at Detroit. New aids to speed the work of sounding and charting, so ships filled with iron ore and coal and wheat and stone and oil can ply Great Lakes waters with greater safety.

THROUGH THE YEARS—Leaving the boat we went back to the dock and Robison introduced us to some raydist technicians, who shook hands and went right back to their testing work.

Last October when the Williams was here they had a fox aboard as a mascot. We didn't see the fox this time. Perhaps there was no room for the animal after all the new equipment was installed. We planned to ask Robison about that.

While he talked with Vernon Hagwood, Charles Conklin and Richard Marshall of the Hastings company, manufacturers of raydist, we wondered about the fox—and of the old days before radar.

The Great Lakes and their connecting channels were a natural waterway that played an important part in the settlement of the Northwest. A couple centuries ago that fox would have lost his hide to the trappers supplying peltries to fur traders.

DOWN TO NOW—The fur trader in canoes or bateaux represented the first commerce on the Great Lakes. If he hit rocks or shoals, too bad, but navigation charts were not essential.

Increasing traffic on the lakes resulted in establishment of the U. S. Lake Survey in 1941. The first charts were published in 1835 and were in great demand. It was not until 1882 the first comprehensive charts of the Great Lakes were completed and published.

Now the charts are being corrected and brought up to date with assistance of electronic devices like raydist. The Williams will be here all summer, mostly testing. Noting the attention Robison and the technicians were giving their gadgets, we wandered off, forgetting to ask what had happened to the fox.

SATURDAY MERRY-GO-ROUND

Van Wert: What is the meaning of the initials "I. e."?—V. B.

Answer: They stand for the Latin phrase, id est, meaning "that is; that is to say."

Arlington: I suppose you hear the national motto pronounced "ee pluribus OOnum" as often as I do. But is that the way to say the motto of the oo-nited States?—P.

Answer: Latin words, phrases, and mottoes, when occurring in English text, should be pronounced according to the so-called "English" method, and not the Italian, or "Continental" method. Correct: ee PLOO-ri-buss YOO-num.

St. Louis: I have been told by Czechs of culture and education that the name Czechoslovakia should be accented on the "ki" and not on the "va." Why, then, do we not pronounce it that way?—A. D.

Answer: Your friends have misled you, I am afraid. Czechoslovakia is a strictly English form, and its correct pronunciation is CHEK-oh-sloe-VAH'kee-uh.

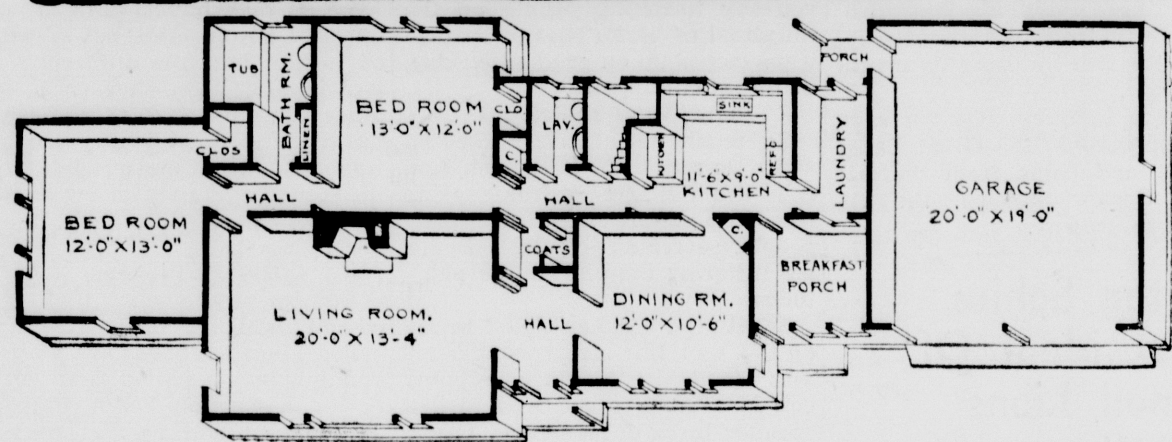

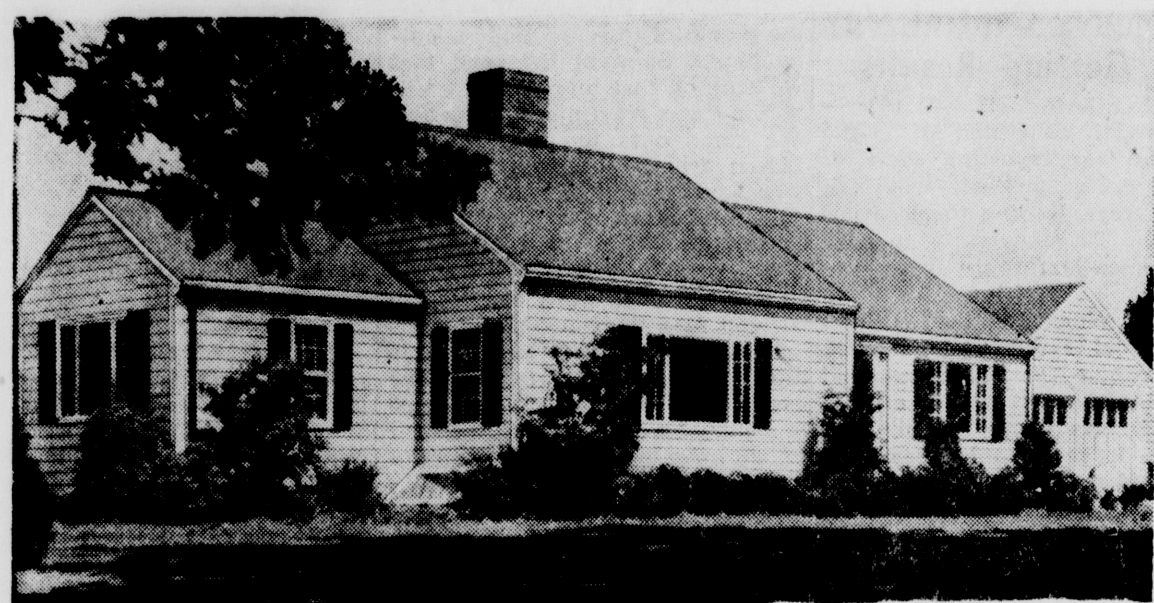

In the country itself, the name is Cess-koslovensko, and the approximate pronunciation is: CHESS-koe-SLAW'ven-skoek.

The Cohasset

An Old-fashioned
New England
Farm HouseRooms ..... Six
Bedrooms ..... Two
Closets ..... Five
CubageHouse ..... 19,000 ft.
Garage ..... 6,300 ft.

Dimensions ..... 79' x 28'

Simple landscaping and plantings are recommended but a few taller bushes will add to the feeling of homey friendliness that characterizes "The Cohasset." Narrow windows flank the front door which is protected by a tiny porchway. The front doorway opens on a good sized entry hall.

An archway in the left wall of the entry hall opens on the living room; the archway in the right wall leads to the dining room. In the rear of the right wall, just before the entry hall connecting with the central hall, is a large coat closet.

Picture Window
Measuring 20' x 13'4", the living room boasts a large picture window in its front wall and a handsome fireplace in its back wall as its two most attractive features. Casement windows flanking the picture window and the window in the left wall provide additional light and ventilation for the living room.

The long unbroken left wall will greatly facilitate furniture placement and the doors in the room are so arranged that no one has to walk directly through the center of the living room to get from one room to another. In the back wall another door leads to the central hall connecting with the rest of the rooms.

On the left, off this central hall, is a bedroom that measures 12' x 13' in dimensions. With one window in the front wall and a large picture window, flanked by narrow casement windows, in the left wall, this bedroom is certain of good cross ventilation and lighting. The extra closet is placed in the right wall, back to the bathroom.

Large enough to hold a tub and shower as well as a handy linen closet, the bathroom receives light and ventilation through the window in the back wall. The bathroom separates the two bedrooms.

Measuring 13' x 12', the second bedroom has double windows in the back wall and another window in the right wall. The long unbroken left wall would be in the first floor laundry which receives plenty of light through the window in the front wall, looking out on the breakfast porch, and the window in the back wall, looking out on the back porch. A door leading also to the back porch gives easy access to the back yard when you want to hang out the family laundry. For additional light you could use a French door for this exit.

The breakfast porch itself is pleasantly lighted by two windows in the front wall. A door leads to the small side porch. This breakfast porch will see a lot of use not only at breakfast time, but all the day through, for it makes an ideal place to serve lunch or afternoon tea.

Measuring 20' x 19', the two-car garage has plenty of room for storage of screens, garden tools, etc. A door from the back porch provides a protected entrance for the garage. A window in the back wall and another in the right wall provide plenty of light and air.

Heating equipment, the only required basement installation, should be placed under the living room. You'll have more than enough basement area for a recreation room, hobby shop, work shop, etc.

We Had World At Yalta And Gave It To Russia

By ROBERT C. RUARK

NEW YORK—One of the salient points of Dean Acheson's recent testimony to the hardheads flatly refuse to believe that the Yalta concessions, which gave the Russians a firm foothold in Asia, were mandatory, or even necessary.

Secretary Acheson has testified that we offered up the concessions because we thought Russia intervention in the war against Japan was vital to our welfare; that we did not even know that time whether the atom bomb would work. So we hauled off and sold out a flock of interests to allow a slew of poor relations to crowd in on the kill.

At the time of the Yalta conference the United States owned little title to the greatest land-and-sea force ever compiled. The Germans had blown. Apart from the polish-off, the Japs had had it too. Their navy was wrecked, and so was their service of supply. Their air force was down to semi-obsolete planes, inexperienced pilots and last-moment bravado born of desperation.

Japan Was Helpless

Their elite troops were either dead or by-passed to semi-starvation. And it didn't matter, really whether we knew the A-bomb would work or wouldn't. We had the alternate machinery, which we proceeded to use, to fry Japan to a turn.

We were not faced with the actual necessity of invasion, finally. We could beat Japan to death from the air, and we could blockade it into starvation, and wreck it coastwise with gunfire, and murder what little industry it had left. Believe me when I saw that after the late fall of 1944 the Japs had so little shipping on the subs were cruising around on the surface, firing deck guns at Sam-pans, for fun.

We Americans were burly as oxen. Considering the millions of men under arms, we had lost but a handful. We had suffered no direct attack on our continent. Our economy was in much stronger shape than today. There was maximum war production at home.

Russia Badly Punished

Russia had been cruelly punished by the Germans. How many millions of their best manhood was lost never will be accurately known. Its civilian population had fought as rough a war as its military. Its earth was scorched and it had been kept alive, mechanically, by the aid that traveled first through the North Atlantic and then through the Persian Gulf.

Add it up for yourself; a depleted ally in Russia. Two whipped enemies. Maximum mobilization and maximum production plus minimum casualties for us, with the A-bomb up the sleeve like a derringer.

Yet we back off from Berlin to let them in. And we give them footholds in Asia which they don't deserve, and which they turn into weapons later on. It doesn't make sense. Any more than the crack about we didn't know the bomb would work. We didn't need the bomb and we knew bloody well it would work. Science was too far along with it at that point for complete conjecture.

We Were the Champs

A heavyweight champion does not need to sell a part of his title proceeds to a midjet, unless business is being done that is not based on the champ's performance in the ring. And at the time of Yalta we were the champs, with the opponents groggy, and Russia was just about as groggy as the opponents. Ergo: Business was done.

My intelligence stands not so high as a hill, but I hate to have it insulted. As a minor naval officer with an occasional eye on the inside, even I knew the war was won as early as autumn, 1944. If I knew it, it is a cinch the top dogs knew it. And at no time after Normandy did the Russians figure too heavily into our practical scheme.

I would never call the secretary of state a liar but I can call him awful dumb if he believes what he is saying or believed what he was being told at the time of Yalta. Because even the average G. I. would tell you real quick that you don't pay a dangerous premium for what you've already got stashed away in your hip pocket, unless you are shooting a cute angle. And when we gave the world away at Yalta, somebody inside was shooting a cute angle.

Sgt. Kerr Runs Into Law Again

Governor's Bodyguard Accused Of Speeding

LANSING—(P)—Governor William's chauffeur and bodyguard, State Police Sgt. George C. Kerr, ran afoul of the Howell police department again Friday night and touched off another debate as to whether he had been speeding.

Kerr, who had his first brush with the Howell force last December 21, was ticketed this time for doing 55 miles an hour in a 45-mile zone.

The ticket, issued by a rookie cop who had been on the force less than a week, was withdrawn the next day by acting chief Fred C. Cronewett of the Howell force.

The chief's action came after Sgt. Kerr denied he had been speeding. Paul Weber, the governor's press secretary who was a passenger in the auto, corroborated Kerr's story.

The governor was asleep in the back seat when the incident occurred at 1:30 a. m. Friday night.

Kerr said he had glanced at his speedometer needle just before rookie patrolman Leonard Straka pulled up behind him to issue the ticket. "I noticed then that we were doing just the legal 45 and called Weber's attention to it," he said.

Straka, a former Michigan State College student who joined the force May 26, said he would not have issued a ticket except that "the driver and another man got nasty."

The young policeman said the second man, who he believed to be Weber, got out and "protested indignantly that they were on official business and should not be delayed."

The governor denied that Weber had figured in the discussion. In last December's incident a Howell policeman said he chased the chief executive's car for nine miles at a 90 mile speed without catching it. After that, Williams said, he ordered his drivers to observe all speed limits.

Greek King Acquires $220,000 Yacht While U. S. Aids His Nation

ATHENS, Greece—(P)—King Paul of Greece is about to become the proud owner of a $220,000 American-built yacht, and the United States government is quite unhappy about the whole thing.

The American embassy has told the Greek government that it thinks American public opinion will take a dim view of the purchase while Greece is getting hundreds of millions of American dollars to regain her economic balance.

Prime Minister Sophocles Venizelos said the yacht will be much cheaper to operate than the destroyer trips to Greek islands.

Venizelos said the 110-foot, 150-ton converted patrol vessel was bought in Miami, Fla. The government paid up $120,000 and wealthy Greek shipowners living in the U. S. and Britain the rest.

Lake Michigan Trout Increase

Lamprey Control May Be Getting Results

WAUKEGAN, Ill.—(P)—Commercial fishermen of Lake Michigan are reporting some of the largest catches of trout in recent years, leading them to believe the 30-year battle to control the sea lamprey may be succeeding.

The president of the Illinois Commercial Fishermen's association, Mathon Kyritsis, said special traps have snared 60 per cent of the lampreys going up tributary streams to spawn this year.

He said fishermen are reporting increased trout catches and very few of the fish have the "mark of the lamprey" on them.

The lamprey is an eel-like sucker that preys on lake fish, particularly trout. It attaches itself to the fish by using its mouth as suction.

The sea lamprey, Kyritsis said, first appeared in the Great Lakes in 1921 and came from the Atlantic Ocean through the St. Lawrence seaway.

Childs Addresses Grads In Home Town Clinton

By MARQUIS CHILDS

CLINTON, Iowa — "This June, the month of roses, of golden, sunny hours. So went the song that we sang on that high school graduation day a great many years ago. We came onto the stage to the March from Tannhauser. There was a speaker, too, and what he said must have been very quickly forgotten if it was taken in at all.

World War I was coming to an end in a final and more terrible bloodletting than had occurred up to that time. But to us of the graduating class Europe seemed unbelievably far away. The war might have been happening on another planet.

Now, after so many years and so much frantic history, one member of that class has come back to be "the speaker." And what do you say to young people on the threshold of life? (That phrase always comes up on graduation day, in the atomic age.)

Sanctity of Individual

So much has been sheared away, so much has been lost. And it is the ultimate effort to stand up before skeptical young people, searching young people, and uttering the old hollow platitudes.

What "the speaker" tried to say on this day, this all-important day was something that probably could never have occurred to that speaker three decades ago. It was to say that in our time of bigness—big government, big business, big labor—of mass communication growing more massive, more uniform and more costly, we are in peril of losing sight of what is at the base of Western values—the sanctity of the individual.

This has sometimes been confused with the cult of personality worship, the ego that declares itself supreme. We have seen that in its full horror in the flowering of Nazism and Fascism, with egos like Mussolini's.

On the contrary, the concept of the individual as an individual means self-discipline; it means the acceptance of responsibilities as well as rights. The individual accepts these responsibilities and rights within the framework of the Western heritage of faith and moral conviction, for it is a fact that without that heritage, that framework, the belief in the inalienable sanctity of the individual could never have come into being.

Opposed To Communism

How profoundly opposed this is to the Communist way of life sometimes fail to realize. The Communist state is a "functional" state, with any means just-tified to the end of a theoretically perfect society.

If you denounce a man as a "class enemy," a "Fascist beast," a "bourgeois wreck," then he ceases to be a human being, an individual, and he can be liquidated with no scruples of any kind involved, in fact, it becomes a duty to denounce him and bring about his destruction. This can be applied to a whole class—you call them Kulaks and you starve them to death.

The end of the Communist state—its final perfection—is a society like that of the ants and the bees. The individual is submerged in the blindly instinctual performance of a task for which he has been biologically specialized.

The speaker ventured the opinion that we couldn't afford too much self-satisfaction on this score. It may have been the nostalgia of an old grad, but it seemed to him that the differences in individuality were sharper in that other era and that there was a much greater willingness to recognize and to understand those differences. Maybe it was just easy-going, old-fashioned tolerance.

Hitler's Prophecy

But he remembered that you couldn't walk up Main street (it's called Main avenue now) without running into a half-dozen people, each one of whom had a character as separate and as set apart as could possibly be. And they were not "characters" or "types" but individuals who had led shared but also separate lives.

The demonic totalitarian, Hitler, prophesied that while he and the Nazis might go down to defeat, the world would nevertheless be driven to follow the example they had set. The fog of poison that Nazism released—the vicious business of labeling people and thereby dehumanizing them—has spread so far that it sometimes seems Hitler's prophecy may be about to come true.

But no one can be pessimistic looking at a graduating class, even in times such as ours. These people are young and so they're hopeful in spite of everything.

The speaker feels that he probably has given them pretty thin fare. Yet he declares he cherishes a sneaking hope that maybe they'll remember some part of what he had to say. You would think that after all these years he'd know better.

About 40 per cent of the land area of the United States receives too little rainfall for safe general agriculture.

Janice E. Schoen
Bride Today, Wed
At St. Michael's

In an attractively appointed wedding ceremony of early June which took place this morning at St. Michael's church in Perronville, Janice Ellen Schoen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Schoen of Perronville and Robert Dallapiazza, son of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Dallapiazza of Norway, spoke their vows. Father Conrad Suda who was celebrant of the 9 o'clock nuptial high mass solemnized the service.

Pink and white peonies, snapdragons and bridal wreath arranged with tall tapers adorned the altar of the church.

White Slipper Satin

For her wedding the bride who was given in marriage by her father, chose traditional white slipper satin. The gown was fashioned with a fitted beaded bodice, illusion scalloped yoke and a three-tiered bouffant skirt which ended in a long train. The beading was repeated in the scalloped overskirt. Her long gloves were of matching material and her three-tiered fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a rhinestone and beaded tiara. She wore a white gold cross, a gift of the bridegroom, and completing her ensemble was an all white colonial bouquet centered with an orchid.

Miss Jean Schoen, student at St. Mary's in Milwaukee, wore green embroidered organdy, styled like the bride's, for her role as maid of honor for her sister. Matching gloves and a picture hat completed her costume. She carried a colonial bouquet of deep red roses surrounded by carnations. The bridesmaids, wearing identical costumes except for color or were Mrs. Al Postano of Chicago, another sister of the bride, who was attired in pink, and Mrs. John Bosak of Detroit, sister of the bridegroom, who was dressed in blue. Their colonial bouquets complemented their costumes.

Little Kathleen Castalez of Norway, the flower girl, was in yellow, her frock styled like those of the bridesmaids. She carried a miniature colonial bouquet.

All of the attendants wore rhinestone necklaces, the gift of the bride.

St. Michael's Choir Sings

Peter DeBernardi, of Norway, a cousin of the bridegroom, was best man and Al Postano of Chicago, brother-in-law of the bride, John Bosak of Detroit, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Dennis Bosak of Norway, a nephew, were ushers.

Mrs. Schoen wore a navy blue dress with white accessories for her daughter's wedding and Mrs. Dallapiazza wore a blue silk print with white accessories. White flowers were used in their corsages.

The Mass by Nicola A. Montani was sung by St. Michael's choir. Mrs. Theodore Dault of Powers who was soloist sang "Ave Maria" at the offertory, and "On This Day" at the close of the service. Mrs. Wallace Wells of Powers, organist, played the traditional bridal music.

The wedding breakfast for the bride party was served at the bride's home and a dinner for fifty-five relatives and close friends at 1:30 at the Chicken Shack. The reception for 300 guests is being held this evening from 7 to 11 at the Moose Lodge in Norway. Appointments include a centerpiece of pink and white snapdragons, bouquets of peonies and tall tapers in crystal candelabra, which flank the three-tiered wedding cake with its miniature bride and bridegroom.

Wedding Guests

The bride will wear a navy blue dress with white accessories and the orchid from her bouquet as a corsage when she and her husband leave for their honeymoon in the east. They will live at 617 Second street in Norway.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Donovan, Mrs. Mayme Meyer, Mrs. Amelia Kiesner, Mrs. Erna Colwell, Miss Esther Schmidt, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Yob and James Colwell of Milwaukee; Miss Lorraine Devine of Menominee; Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Dault and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Wells of Powers; Mrs. Amelia Jaeger of Denmark; Mr. and Mrs. Emil Schoen and Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wengryzn of Green Bay; Mrs. Peter Schire, Cornell; Misses Jean and Barbara Schoen and Mr. and Mrs. Al Postano and daughter, Debra of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. John Bosak of Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Dallapiazza, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Castalez, Mr. and Mrs. Angelo Dallapiazza and Mr. and Mrs. Peter DeBernardi of Norway; Mrs. Alex Bertognoli of Marquette; Mr. and Mrs. John Jank, Stambaugh; Mr. and Mrs. Royal Michel, Schaffer; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Schoen, Wilson; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Schoen and Mr. and Mrs. William Schoen, Bark River; Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Kilb, Whitney; Misses Margaret, Rose, Anna and Ellen Devine of Bark River; Route 2, and Miss Mae Devine of Detroit.

Lorraine Hart,
Raymond Ethier
Married Today

Bouquets of mixed flowers were arranged with the lighted candles on the altar of St. Ann's chapel this morning for the wedding of Miss Lorraine Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hart, 405 South 15th street, and Raymond Ethier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Ethier, 1817 Ludington street.

The couple exchanged vows before Father Clifford Nadeau who was celebrant of the 10 o'clock nuptial high mass. St. Ann's choir sang the music of the wedding mass. Earl Owen, soloist, sang "Ave Maria" at the offertory and "On This Day Oh Beautiful Mother" at the close of the service. Mrs. Thomas Tougissant and Mrs. Leonard Racine were soloists of the mass. The organist was Miss Bernadette Cossette.

Gown Of White Lace

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina length gown of white lace with a fitted bodice, scalloped neckline and full gathered skirt. Her veil of bridal illusion which was elbow length was attached to a headpiece of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of white snapdragons and lily of the valley centered with red roses. Mrs. John Molin who was her matron of honor wore a ballerina length gown of nile green with a lace bodice and a full skirt. The flowers in her hair matched her bouquet of white snapdragons and lily of the valley, centered with yellow roses. John Peltier, Jr., was best man for Mr. Ethier.

Mrs. Hart selected a gown of dusty rose with white accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her flowers were pink roses and mixed sweetpeas. Mrs. Ethier wore a navy and white ensemble and a corsage of pink roses.

The wedding breakfast was served at the Dells and a reception is being held this afternoon from 3 to 6 at the bride's family home. Bouquets of mixed flowers and the four-tiered wedding cake form the decorative theme of the reception.

Hazel June Nelson,
George Sealander
Exchange Vows

Altar bouquets of white peonies decorated the sanctuary of the First Presbyterian Church for the marriage of Miss Hazel June Nelson and Corporal George E. Sealander at 3 p. m. today. Rev. James H. Bell performed the ceremony at the double ring, candle light service. Spring flowers and unusual pew markers of pastel moline and lilies of the valley added to the beauty of the setting.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Nelson, 1026 Stephenson Ave. She was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. P. K. Bowers. Cpl. Sealander is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Chris Sealander, Route 1, Gladstone.

Helen Joy Nelson, a twin sister of the bride, was the maid of honor; and Miss Gladys Swanson, bridesmaid. Edward Sealander served as his brother's best man and Marvin Sealander, another brother, as groomsman. Ushers were Elwood Way, a cousin of the bride, and James Bichler.

Mrs. Maurice Fernstrom served as organist for the ceremony. Miss Anne Hendricks sang "The Lord's Prayer" by Regina Fryxell and "O Perfect Love" by H. T. Burleigh.

The bride wore a white nylon marquisette gown with fitted waistline, high mandarin collar of lace, and a lace yoke with full skirt of nylon marquisette draped over a skirt of chantilly lace. She also wore matching mitts. Her veil was French illusion edged with double rows of chantilly lace caught to a crown of seed pearls.

She carried a colonial bouquet of baby mums, sweet peas and lilies of the valley. The attendants wore ankle length dresses of perma-soi similarly styled with a fluted bodice, jewel neckline and cap sleeves. The peplum was embroidered in the same white flower motif as the deep scalloped edge of the hemline. The maid of honor wore yellow and the bridesmaid a soft mint green. Short nylon gloves completed their costumes. They carried colonial bouquets similar to the bride's, and wore wreaths of the same flowers in their hair.

Reception at Church
For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Nelson wore a brown crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a navy blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

A reception for 200 guests in Westminster Hall followed the ceremony. A white bouquet centered the tea table which was beautifully decorated with crystal candelabra and white tapers. A large white wedding cake was served from one end of the table. Presiding at the silver service were Miss Lois Way and Miss Delores Way, cousins of the bride. Mrs. Maurice Fernstrom and Mrs. Clara Somers provided instrumental music during the reception.

Miss Nelson is a graduate of the Escanaba high school and the Bay City Business College. Cpl. Sealander also is a graduate of the Escanaba high school and attended Augustana College. He was employed as payroll clerk at the Bird's Eye Veneer Co. of Escanaba before entering the service of the U. S. Army. At present he is stationed at Camp Atterbury, Indiana.

Wedding Guests
The young couple will leave for an unannounced destination for their wedding trip. The bride has chosen a pink and grey checked suit with white accessories for her travel costume. She will wear an orchid corsage.

Out of town guests who attended the ceremony were: Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Hakes, Dearborn, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Karl Zeibrath, Iron Mountain; Mr. and Mrs. John Sealander, Iron Mountain; Mr. John Sealander, Jr., Detroit; Mr. and Mrs. Marton Hultquist, Norway, Mich.; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Pruger, Milwaukee; Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Larson, Milwaukee; and Miss Jacqueline Gloudehans, Little Chute, (Wis.)

Births
Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Wisniewski of Route 5, Green Bay are the parents of a son, Gordon Paul, born June 7 at 2:45 a. m. at Belin Memorial hospital. The baby weighed eight pounds and five ounces. Gordon Paul's mother is the former Frances Marie Olson and his grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Werner A. Olson of 805 South 18th street, Escanaba.

LUDINGTON
BUY-LINES
by Sue Donimus

THE bride who looks sweet enough to eat probably does. How I envy today's brides who have modern pottery to choose from at Edna's Gift Shop. Ranch-house is the name of the newest arrival of Salem dinnerware. Only $6.50 buys a 20 piece setting. The deep forest green will set an unusual table; or you may mix colors, choosing from coral, pink, chartreuse or a soft gray. Very modern in design, Ranch-house will inspire any housewife to be home at the range. Be sure to stop in at Edna's soon—I know you'll want to brand it as yours. Colored stemware and glassware to match, too!

When Papa tries to diaper the baby, that triangle becomes a wrecktable! But when Ridings Studio photographs a baby, there's nothing to it—it's a snap! You'll like the way they catch every precious quirk and smile. Make your appointment soon for a baby picture you'll cherish forever. Ridings Studio has a way with babies—and mamas, too!

SOMEONE said the three stages of man are school tablet, aspirin tablet, and stone tablet. I'm in the aspirin tablet stage myself! Three children can be mighty hard on furniture and fixings—and their mother. But I'm thankful for Ted's Fix-it Shop these days. Things that might seem beyond repair to the amateur are just a challenge to Ted. Stop in at his shop—you'll see!

"SURE," said the henpecked husband, "my wife compliments me sometimes. In the winter, if the fire gets low she says, 'Alexander, the grate!'" There's a great day coming—Father's Day—and you'll want to tell Dad he's a great guy. No better way than with a Parker pen and pencil set from the Office Service Co. See the Parker 21 pen and pencil for just $8.75. Or the luxury Parker 51's at $15 and $18.75. The Office Service Co. makes it a very personal gift by imprinting his name on the set free of charge! A great present!

YOU'LL want to see the feature attraction at the Miti Shop. It's spectators in the famous Joene style at just $9.95. Lots of choices in brown and white, and blue and white with all heights of heels; they also come in red and black with white. If you need some summer shoes, you'll find it's no feat to get back on your feet with these smart spectators. The Miti Shop also has rounded up a grand supply of play shoes. I saw liners—all colors—flats and higher wedgies heels—from $3.75.

A CAVITY always seems larger than it is because it's natural for the tongue to exaggerate! I'm not exaggerating when I say that the Photo Art Shop can make small things look mighty big. For just 2c more than for the regular size you can have a Jumbo Print made from any size snap shot film. That's a big deal that's developed at the Photo Art!

IF you're dizzy from that everlasting whirl of household activities, just send your clothes spinning at the Sun-Brite Laundromat and regain your equilibrium. Besides doing the regular family wash at 35c for each big load, the Laundromat can take over the washing of blankets and chenille bedspreads and fluff them soft like they never were at home! All kinds of cotton and rayon curtains can be done for you in a few minutes. And you take them home for stretching or ironing. The Sun-Brite Laundromat does each load of clothes in only 39 minutes. It's the friend of every housewife; so start going around in the right circles by sending your clothes around in circles at the Laundromat.

WHAT do you give your husband when he doesn't like the dinner you have prepared for him?—His hat and cane! And what do you give yourself when you're tired of dish pans and dish pan hands? A Dishmaster, of course! Do you know about this modern method of washing dishes? A brush is attached to the end of a spray hose. You control suds or clear water with a push button on the handle. What is ordinarily the stacking process becomes the whole thing you wash and rinse the dishes without a dishpan! Dishmaster is so economical to use, it will soon pay for itself. Call Erickson Millwork if you'd like to see one. Let us spray!

SHE was only a build in a girl-died cage! You won't feel repressed even in the hot summer months when you're held in by the smooth, cool foundation garments I saw at Ward's yesterday. Pre-shrunk, summer mesh garments at these fabulous prices: corselet with side hooks, $3.98; back lace corset $3.98; front lace, $4.98; girdle with side hooks, $2.98.

Crane Operator Is Electrocuted

George Ruleau
Killed Yesterday

George Ruleau, 51, 206 North Cedar street, was electrocuted about 3 p. m. yesterday when the boom of a crane he was operating for the Schoolcraft county road commission came in contact with a 7200-volt electric line.

The accident occurred at a clay pit on M-94, about ten miles north of Manistique. Death is believed to have been instantaneous.

Vilas Gray, road commission truck driver, found Ruleau's body at 3:25 lying on the ground near the cab of a truck on which the crane was mounted. Blackened grass and a hand imprint on the cab door indicated that his body had grounded the electric line while he was either getting in or out of the cab.

Ruleau, an experienced crane operator, was alone when he died and, according to Gray, was preparing to suspend clay digging operations for the day. Gray's truck, one of several hauling clay from the pit to a repair job on M-94, was the last one emptied, and had reported back to the pit to pick up a detachable clam and shovel used on the crane.

Dr. George A. Shaw, who arrived at the scene shortly after 4 p. m., reported that death was probably instantaneous. A rescuer, brought there a few minutes later by City Manager H. W. Heideman and Fire Chief Elmer Boal, was not used.

State police, also called about 4 p. m., and county road officials could only conjecture on circumstances which caused the crane boom to hit the electric line which ran close to the pit entrance.

The body was taken to the Kefauver and Jackson funeral home for burial preparations. Funeral arrangements were incomplete last night.

Ruleau leaves his widow; two daughters, Mrs. Merrill Cornell and Mrs. Lois Cameron, of Manistique; and a son, George, of Paradise.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Monday in Kefauver and Jackson funeral home. Burial will be in Fairview cemetery.

City Briefs

Mrs. Orlando Ott, Lake street, left today for Berkeley, Ill., where she will visit at the John Neu home.

Mrs. Al Richey and Mrs. Arthur Saunders returned today after visiting in Petoskey for a few days.

Mrs. Ray Lyntz and Mrs. William Bellore visited with Mrs. Arthur Denny in Munising on Friday.

Mrs. Oliver Beaudoin and son, Robert, of Trout Lake, have arrived to spend the weekend at the Andrew Knopp home, 334 Chippewa avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie (Bud) Graham, Jr., and four children, Linda, Carol, Buddy and Ivan, of Detroit, are visiting at the Graham home, River street.

Recreation Schedule For Summer Outlined

Gladstone's summer recreation program is getting into full swing and the schedule of activity is announced by Miss Beverly Burt, directress.

Each morning from 10 to 12 Miss Burt will be at the Central playground area while on Friday and Saturday will be devoted to the Buckeye school playground.

On Monday and Wednesday mornings, 10 to 12, there will be tennis instruction for girls 9 to 16 years of age and games for children. On Tuesday and Thursday mornings, tennis instruction will be given boys 9 to 14.

Miss Burt will be at the Buckeye playground from 1 to 2:30 on Mondays and Wednesdays and at the main playground on Tuesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday afternoons for tennis, baseball, softball and other playground activities.

Miss Burt will direct activities at the Central playground every afternoon except Friday from 2:30 to 4, and at the Buckeye area from 4 to 5.

A junior boys softball team has been formed and five teams are already entered and more expected. Scheduled play will begin next week. On Tuesday at 2 the Junior Redskins will play the Tigers, on Wednesday at 2 the Tigers will clash with Pete's, on Wednesday at 10 the Panthers play the Junior Redskins, on Friday at 10 the Panthers and the Tigers meet and on Friday at 2 the Junior Redskins play Pete's.

On two nights a week the junior softballers will be able to use the softball diamond and lights, if needed. The girls will have it Wednesday evening and the boys on Friday night. This will not be effective until about three weeks from now when the youngsters have had time to do some practicing.

Practice schedules for the teams are as follows: Panthers Monday and Thursday 10-12, Pete's team Wednesday and Friday, 2-4, Tigers Tuesday and Thursday 3-5 and Junior Redskins Mondays and Thursdays 1-3.

Several girls softball teams have been formed and others will be. Any girl interested in playing should contact Miss Burt.

Captains of the teams are responsible for equipment issued and must check it in the close of the season. Catching equipment must be left at the recreation building at the close of each game.

Opening of the bathing beach is expected about June 15. Lifeguards are now being sought by the City of Gladstone.

Elaine Thorsen Becomes Bride Of Russell DeRoek

Nuptial vows were spoken by Miss Elaine Thorsen and Russell E. DeRoek this morning at a ceremony performed at 10 o'clock in All Saints' rectory by the Rev. Fr. Matt LaViolette.

Baskets of flowers were placed at either side of the attendants for the wedding.

Elaine is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Thorsen, 819 Michigan avenue and Russell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo DeRoek, 16 South 10th street.

Attending the couple were Miss Lois Bjurman of Stonington, cousin of the bride, and Irving DeRoek, brother of the bridegroom. The bride's gown was fashioned of nylon marquisette and chintilly lace with a fitted bodice and drop shoulder effect with an illusion neckline and long sleeves tapering to points at the wrist. The full skirt was edged with a flounce of chintilly lace and a chapel length train. Her fingertip veil of French illusion and chintilly lace was held in place by a lace tiara. She carried a colonial bouquet of red and white roses.

Her maid of honor chose a pale green gown styled like that of the bride with a fitted bodice, drop shoulder effect and illusion neckline. She wore elbow length gloves and a wreath of flowers in her hair which matched her colonial bouquet of yellow roses.

The bride's mother wore a blue and white checked dress with red accessories and the groom's mother was attired in a canary yellow suit with blue accessories.

A wedding dinner, with covers laid for twelve guests, was served in the Rainbow room at Bell's restaurant and a reception is being held this afternoon at the bride's parental home from 4 to 7 o'clock. Baskets of cut flowers will form the home decorations. The three tiered wedding cake will be topped by the traditional miniature bride and groom.

The bride will wear a beige suit with red accessories on their wedding trip to an undisclosed destination. Upon their return they will reside on Lowry avenue.

The bride attended Rapid River high school and graduated from Gladstone high school with the class of '50. She attended the Northern Michigan College of Education and is pledged to the Gamma Phi Alpha Sorority. She is employed at the Escanaba Paper company. The groom is a graduate of Gladstone high school and is employed at the North-western Veneer & Plywood Corp.

School Voting To Be Monday

Two Candidates Seek Re-Election

The annual city school election will be held Monday, June 11, with polls being open from 7 a. m. until 8 p. m., Eastern Standard time.

Mrs. Elwood Taylor and Dr. George A. Shaw, both seeking re-election, are the only candidates for the two vacancies on the board.

Polling places are: Precinct 1, Lincoln school; precinct 2, Lakeside school.

Any elector qualified to vote in a regular city election may take part in the school voting.

Social

Cabrini Circle

St. Frances Cabrini Circle held its closing meeting of the year this week with a potluck dinner at the home of Mrs. Charles Redeker, Manistique avenue. Dinner was served at 7 o'clock with covers laid for 20 circle members and Rev. George Pernaski, a guest of the group. A madonna with cut flowers and lighted tapers was used in the attractive table decorations.

A short business meeting and social hour followed the dinner. Officers for the circle for next season were chosen. Mrs. Redeker will serve as leader and Miss Nora McDonough as treasurer.

MANIST

In This Corner

With Ray Crandall

Tri-County Baseball league players and fans have been poring through the rule book this week to check the official regulations on the balk. Interest, of course, stems from the protest by Foster City of a balk called on the Foster City pitcher by the Foster City umpire in the game Wednesday against Bark River. At this writing we are not sure that there has been an official protest or not.

When we checked with Commissioner Russ Simmons yesterday he said he had not yet received notification of the protest from Foster City. Tri-County bylaws state that protests must be submitted, in writing, to the league commissioner not later than 48 hours after the game has been played.

We didn't see the play in question and have had no "official" description of it, although several players who were on the field have discussed it with us. As we understand it from the league commissioner, he will sit with a protest board to make a final ruling, if the protest is submitted.

As near as we can figure it, there are two sections of rule 31 which have a bearing on the incident. Unfortunately, the two sections seem to contradict each other. Section 1 states: "Any motion made by the pitcher while in position to deliver the ball to the batter without delivering it, or to throw to FIRST base when occupied by a base-runner without completing the throw" is a balk. We capitalized FIRST to emphasize that the rule does not specify the other bases and therefore does not seem to apply to them.

Section 9 of the same rule states: "After the pitcher has taken position, with both hands holding the ball in front of him, he cannot take either hand off the ball except in the act of delivering the ball to the batsman or in throwing to bases." Take your pick.

The baseball scene reaches an early climax here tomorrow when the Escanaba Bears play host to Foster City in a Tri-County league headline which gets under way at 2:30 at the city diamond.

The Bears and Foster City are knotted with Bark River in a three-way snarl at the head of the standings. It may be a temporary situation as Foster City has protested the Bark River win in a makeup game at Foster City Wednesday.

Regardless, there will be a lot at stake when the teams meet here tomorrow.

Largest crowd of the young season is anticipated with good weather.

Hiltonen Or Beck

Manager Phil Brazeau has yet to decide on a starting pitcher. He wavered this week between young Russ Hiltonen and Jack Beck, the long and short extremes of the Bear mound staff. Hiltonen has seen league action while Big Jack has tossed an exhibition win only. Both are right-handers and capable of holding their own under normal circumstances.

The backstop position also offers a problem to the Bears. Regular catcher Charlie Camps is out of action with a hand injury and the burden will fall on Jim Nyquist if he is ready after a split finger suffered a week ago. If not, Manager Brazeau may wind up behind the plate.

Bark River Home

Rest of the starters will be Ed Gauthier at first, Ray McDonald at second, Dean Bailey at short, Marc Olson at third, Tom St. Germaine, Joe Ricci and Doug Peterson in the outfield.

Foster City is expected to send their star chucker, Charlevoix, to the mound with Bob Johnson available for relief if needed.

Bark River will be making its bid for a continued share in the league lead with a home stand against Wallace, starting at 2 o'clock.

Oldtimer League In Second Week

The Oldtimers' league moves into its second week of action with three important games scheduled for Tuesday night and three for Friday. It's too early in the season to predict who will win the loop trophy but all indications point to a wide-open race for the championship.

Next week's lineup of games follows:
Tuesday—St. Thomas vs. Daily Press at Royce; St. Joe vs. Eagles at No. 3; Clairmonts vs. Delta Frame at Flat Rock.

Friday—St. Thomas vs. St. Joe Boosters at Memorial Field at 7:00; Delta Frame vs. Eagles at Memorial Field at 8:30; Clairmonts vs. Birds Eye at Royce.

Brewers Lose 4-3 To Toledo, Tie For 2nd

(By The Associated Press)

Minneapolis beat Louisville 5-3 Friday night and moved into tie with Milwaukee for second place in the Milwaukee association.

Milwaukee lost to Toledo. A home run in the tenth inning by the Hens' Russ Sullivan was the payoff blow in a 4-3 Toledo victory.

S-Ball Features Slated Sunday

Girls Team To Open Night Doubleheader

Girls' softball will be featured in the first half of a Sunday night doubleheader at Memorial field with Tim & Sally's facing Delta Hardware in the 7 o'clock opener.

White Birch and Paper Mill will resume their rivalry in the 8:30 windup. White Birch beat Paper Mill in an exhibition game and a league game this season and the Millers will be seeking revenge.

Ronnie King, Bill Lancoeur and Frannie Lancoeur will be available for mound duty for White Birch while Tom Elgeert and Paul Larson are probable pitchers for Paper Mill.

For Tim & Sally's it will be either Carol Pilon or Maxine Koehler on the mound with Ruby Sioykovich catching. Delta Hardware will have Marge Hurley or Gail Bouchier pitching with Barbara Jensen behind the plate.

Tim & Sally's are last year's city champs. Delta Hardware was runnerup in the U. P. finals last season.

Sunday afternoon an all-girls doubleheader will be played with Tim and Sally's facing Marquette at 2 and Delta Hardware taking on Marquette at 3:30.

Yesterday's Stars

Batting, Jim Hegan, Indians—knocked in three runs with first inning double and hit homer in sixth of Tribe's 7-1 romp over Boston.

Priddy Paces Tigers In 9-2 Win Over A's

DETROIT — (AP)—Jerry Priddy—who hits when it counts—almost went unnoticed in the Detroit Tigers' new victory splurge.

After all, second baseman Priddy's batting average was an unimpressive .270. Every regular except Pat Mullin and Aaron Robinson owned better averages than that.

However, the stocky Californian slammed his fewer base hits when they were needed most. In the last six games his seven key hits included two homers and helped carve five victories for the Tigers.

Big Inning

Yesterday Priddy singled to start a third inning explosion that produced eight runs, more than the Tigers had scored in any other inning this year.

Before the inning was over he singled again to drive in a run. With that outburst the Tigers easily trimmed the Philadelphia Athletics 9-2.

Right-hander Dizzy Trout gave up nine hits, five of them in the last three innings, as he coasted to his third win against six defeats. Trout also smashed a double and single.

The fifth place Tigers would like to sweep the remaining three games with the Athletics (one game today, two tomorrow). In that event they would be sure of picking up some ground on fourth-place Cleveland and third-place Boston who are playing

The end of another week of action in the city softball 11 leagues finds the youthful Clairmont Transfer team leading both loops and basting an undefeated record for the season.

After winning their third straight in the National circuit, the speedy Transfers moved into faster competition and knocked off last week's leaders, White Birch, by an 8 to 2 score at Memorial Field on Thursday night.

On the strength of this convincing victory they served notice on the other American league clubs that they would have to be reckoned with before the season is over.

Two class A doubleheaders on Monday and Tuesday nights are the features of next week's softball program but the game of the week is the No-Names-Westby's Service clash at Memorial Field on Wednesday night at 8:15. Clairmont plays its first under-the-lights contest Thursday evening and their foe will be the powerful Harnischfeger nine, last year's city champs.

The complete schedule of league games for next week follows:
Monday—No-Names vs. Harnischfeger at Memorial Field at 7:15; Ev's vs. Power & Light at Memorial Field at 8:30; Liberty Loan vs. St. Thomas at No. 3; St. Ann vs. Al's Tavern at Royce.

Tuesday—Power & Light vs. Westby's at Memorial Field at 7:15; Paper Mill vs. White Birch at Memorial Field at 8:30.

Wednesday—Al's Tavern vs. St. Thomas at Memorial Field at 7:00; No-Names vs. Westby's at Memorial Field at 8:15; Clairmont Transfer vs. Paper Mill at Royce.

Thursday—Liberty Loan vs. St. Ann at Memorial Field at 7:15; Clairmont vs. Harnischfeger at Memorial Field at 8:30; Ev's vs. White Birch at Flat Rock.

ers, John Henderson, Ray Wells or Bob Lawrence, to start against the Cubs.

The Powers team is a mixture of tried veterans and newcomers who may provide plenty of opposition in the six-team circuit.

The Gladstone team will be at Bark River for a 4 o'clock contest with Mayne Marmlick getting the starting mound nod from Managers Delbert Nelson and George Young.

Tod Boutilier will be behind the plate, John Alworden at first, Francis Rabitoy at second, Jim Bratonia at short and Tom Moreau at third. The outfielders will be selected from among Jack Soderman, Alger Strom, Don Timmer and Herman LaFave.

Reserve pitchers are Tom Cannon and Duane Switzer.

Coach Al Ness today named Jack Chriske, undefeated Escanaba high school hurler, to start on the Escanaba Cub mound tomorrow afternoon in the Waubung league opener at Powers.

The Eskey junior, who led his mates to seven straight victories in high school circles, is a right hander with a fast ball and change-up who wrote his name in the high school honor roll this season with a no-hit, no-run performance against Ne-gaunee.

The game will be played at Powers at 2:30 (last time) and is one of three league openers. Other games send Munising to Menominee and Gladstone to Bark River.

Coach Ness has been working his Cubs out for the past week and has come up with a strong starting lineup and a half-dozen reserves who are capable of taking over at any time.

Starting for the Cubs will be Warren Johnston behind the plate, Paul Gundersen at first, John Peterson at second, Pete Kutches at short, John Martinec at third, Francis Artley in left field, Paul Baldwin in center and Tim Larmay in right.

All except Artley, Larmay and Peterson have seen regular action with the Cubs, although Larmay was used briefly as a pitcher last season.

In reserve will be Tom O'Brien, Jim Christiansen, Bob Sendenburgh, Gus Masonitch, Fred Boddy and Tom Cass.

Manager Bob Seering of Powers will call on one of three pitchers, John Henderson, Ray Wells or Bob Lawrence, to start against the Cubs.

White Sox Win Streak Is Halted By Vic Raschi 4-2

By JACK HAND
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Maybe White Sox fans should try the black cat and rabbit's foot curse on Vic (never lost in Chicago) Raschi.

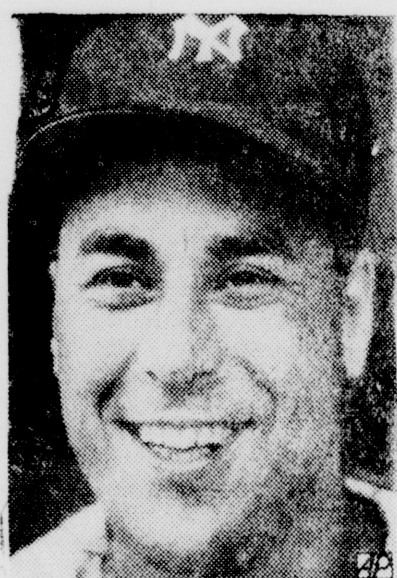

It worked in Cleveland where the citizens routed the Eddie Lopat jinx with a strategic application of one black tabby and 15,000 rabbit's feet. Chicago trusted in Paul Richard's black magic. It wasn't enough as Raschi turned back the Sox, 4-2, on seven hits.

Comiskey park customers who never have seen the husky New York Yankee ace lose a game must rate him in the Walter Johnson class. Both losses in his 13-2 lifetime record against the Sox were suffered at Yankee stadium.

But the Sox can console themselves with a 3½ game lead and the knowledge that Raschi can't work every day. Frank Shea, today's foe, may be a softer touch. Three big games remain in this first important series of the season.

New Attendance Mark
Raschi smashed the Sox's six-game win streak last night before 53,490 fans, a new Comiskey park attendance record. The old high was 53,325 for a doubleheader with Cleveland, May 15, 1949 when old Satchmo Paige was still around.

Eddie Robinson's 11th homer with Nelson Fox on base put Raschi behind the eight ball in the third. But the Yanks got to loser Kenny Holcombe for two in the fourth, driven in by Johnny Hopp's double and Mickey Man-tle's single. Three singles and two sacrifices won the game in the fifth with Gene Wooding and Bobby Brown singling home the runs.

Bobby Feller, only one win behind Raschi with his 8-1 record, dusted off Boston, 7-1, to get revenge for his one loss. It was Boston's seventh defeat in 10 starts since leaving friendly Fenway.

Dom's Streak Ends
The Indians assured Feller of his eighth win with a five-run outburst in the second inning, routing Maury McDermott.

Feller ended Dom DiMaggio's consecutive game hitting streak at 27 games. Dom flied out three times and grounded out twice. He hit .403 during his streak.

Detroit cut loose with eight runs in the third inning to smother Philadelphia, 9-2, while Dizzy Trout scattered nine hits for his third win. The Tigers sent 12 men to the plate in the third to face loser Carl Scheib and Morris Martin. Jerry Priddy had two singles in the inning.

Rain washed out the Washington-St. Louis night game with the Senators leading 4-1 at the end of four innings.

Braves Lose
The National league all-night schedule was cut to one game by rain. Chicago at New York, Pittsburgh at Brooklyn and Cincinnati at Philadelphia all were postponed.

They managed to play at Boston where rookie Joe Presko of St. Louis stopped the Braves with six hits, 2-1. The win gave the Cards undisputed possession of second place, six games behind the idle Dodgers.

Presko's sixth win missed being a shutout when Walker Cooper homered in the ninth. Both St. Louis runs scored on errors by Bob Elliott who made three for the night.

Rumor Persists Browns On Block

Club Either Sold Or Will Be Very Soon

ST. LOUIS — (AP)—Reports persisted today, despite denials by the principals, that the long-rumored sale of the St. Louis Browns to Bill Veeck is nearing completion.

There have been recurring reports the club would be sold almost from the day that Bill and Charlie DeWitt assumed control of the club two and a half years ago.

But never have they flown so thick and fast.

There are several different versions, but they jibed on these two points: the sale to Veeck, former owner of the Cleveland Indians, may be completed at any moment, or already has been completed, and the Browns will remain in St. Louis.

Contacted in Chicago, Veeck smilingly asked reporters:

"Why should I buy them? Now that the White Sox acquired Don Lenhardt (from the Browns) I can see the St. Louis ball club here."

Report Deal Set

But the Milwaukee Journal said Veeck told it in a telephone conversation that only a few details on the transaction remained to be worked out. The newspaper quoted Veeck as saying, "for a while at least we will try to buck the Cardinals in St. Louis."

Attendance at Browns games here has been poor ever since the DeWitt brothers acquired 53 per cent of the club's stock and its getting worse.

Home attendance this season has totaled only 88,170 for 24 games, about 20,000 under the gate last year at this stage. The Cardinals, playing in the same park, have attracted 248,083 cash customers in 21 games.

Soft Hole At Oakland Hills Fixed For Good

DETROIT — (AP)—Groundskeepers have fixed, but good, a "soft" way to play the 18th hole on the Oakland Hills golf course in suburban Birmingham.

The course is to be the site of the national open golf tournament next weekend.

Some sharpies, however, discovered that the simplest way to play the 459-yard hole, with a par of four, was to slip down the adjoining 10th hole fairway.

But the keepers have planted three big trees just to the right of the 18th tee, screening off the 10 fairway.

"No one can play some of these holes," lamented golfing ace Ben Hogan after an experimental run around the course.

Home attendance this season has totaled only 88,170 for 24 games, about 20,000 under the gate last year at this stage. The Cardinals, playing in the same park, have attracted 248,083 cash customers in 21 games.

Pontiac Quadruplets Too Popular; Mother Puts On Door Fee

PONTIAC, Mich.—(AP)—Want to see the Rosebush squads? That'll be a quarter, please.

Mrs. Anna Rosebush, the mother, painted and posted a sign to that effect before her home in suburban Oakwood.

It's not for money, though, she carefully explained, it's "for self defense."

Sometimes as many as 52 persons a day have crowded into the home to view the two boys and two girls, youngsters born last January.

Mrs. Rosebush says she hopes the admittance fee will cut the traffic.

Lake Shore Acquires Docks At Marquette

IRON MOUNTAIN, Mich.—Acquisition from Spear and Sons, Inc., of Marquette, of the Spear dock in that city, by the Lake Shore Engineering company of Iron Mountain and Marquette, was announced by F. A. Flodin, president of Lake Shore. The deal includes all facilities of the dock property, including a warehouse, "stackage, dockage and other accessories."

Effective immediately, the deal is designed primarily to provide adequate quarters for the manufacture and assembly of electrically driven cargo winches now being produced by the Marquette manufacturing plant of Lake Shore.

Malt King Settles Spat With Daughter

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Multi-millionaire Malt King Kurtis R. Froedtert and his young daughter Mrs. Suzanne Froedtert Poulos apparently have mended a family spat.

Suzanne incurred the special displeasure of her father when she eloped with Nicholas Poulos, a shoe clerk, in 1948. After her 21st birthday, on Jan. 11, 1951, she demanded title to a half-million dollar trust established for her by Froedtert in 1941. Her father indicated he would contest this claim.

A pre-arranged county court settlement Wednesday ended Froedtert's guardianship but installed him as trustee of a new fund, which will become Suzanne's when she is 45. It was believed to provide her with more than twice the annual income of $8,500 to $12,500 allowed under the original trust.

Marshall Confers With Ridgway; Big Events Expected

"should be a danger signal to the free world."

He warned it might (1) allow Reds to put the finishing touches on a campaign to push the Allies into the sea or (2) permit them to shift the battleground to any area they choose.

Upon his arrival from Korea last night Marshall dismissed the peace rumors by telling reporters to ask Red China's Mao Tze-Tung about that. He also said he had no new directives for Ridgway.

As Marshall was being interviewed, a reporter asked Ridgway: "Did Secretary Marshall bring any new instructions for you concerning the war?"

"No comment," Ridgway smiled. Then the smile grew to a big grin. Marshall's plans have not been announced.

The two generals conferred Friday in Korea with the U. S. Eighth Army commander, Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, and his corps and division commanders.

Staying Until Monday

In Korea, Marshall told correspondents: "I came to Korea to congratulate our army leaders on their achievements."

Marshall arrived in front of the general headquarters building at 11:53 a. m., Saturday on his return from Korea.

After the conference the generals drove to the U. S. embassy where Marshall is staying with the Ridgways. They dined with Mrs. Ridgway and Col. M. P. Carter of Marshall's Washington staff.

A high officer said Marshall probably would be willing to arrange a press conference but "not tonight and probably not tomorrow." This indicated that Marshall would still be in Japan Monday.

Marshall paid a surprise visit to the Korean war front Friday. He had arrived in Tokyo secretly the night before.

Argentine Golfer Leads Palm Beach

Leads Palm Beach

NEW ROCHELLE—(AP)—Roberto De Vicenzo, swarthy Argentine who hits a tremendous tee shot, held the center of the stage today in the Palm Beach round robin golf tournament's fourth round.

The big fellow posted a second consecutive 68 to take over the lead from favored Bobby Locke by piling up a point total of plus 24. Locke had second place with plus 17.

De Vincenzo, with 69-68-68—205 for the first three rounds, was the low medal player as well as holding the point lead. Jimmy Demaret, although only fourth in point standings, has second low medal of 71-69-68—208.

In the point total, by which the winner is judged, Jim Ferrier was in third place behind Locke with plus 13 followed in order by Demaret, plus 10; defending champion Lloyd Mangrum, plus 7; Fred Haas, jr., plus 5; Johnny Palmer, plus 4; Jack Burke, jr., plus 2; Herman Barron, plus 2; Clayton Heafner, minus 1; Ed Oliver, minus 6; Cary Middlecoff, minus 6; Henry Ransom, minus 7; Chick Harbert, minus 10; Al Brosch, minus 20 and Chandler Harper, minus 34.

Governor Proclaims June 14 Flag Day

LANSING — (AP) — Governor Williams today proclaimed Thursday, June 14, as Flag Day in Michigan and asked for a public display of the flag.

"This year, as our forces overseas fight to preserve the precious legacy of liberty bestowed on us by our forefathers, it is more than ever fitting that we pay tribute to our flag and all it represents," the proclamation declared.

Lawgivers Wreck State Hospital Building Program

after pennies for the $5,000,000 TB money. They wanted it for their local county TB hospitals. If they didn't have one, they wanted to build one at state expense.

Requests totaling more than $10,000,000 piled up for the $5,000,000 grant.

This was somewhat of a surprise to some of the voters who had followed the bond issue, project. They had voted on a plan to issue bonds to "acquire, construct and equip hospitals for the mentally ill x x x and tuberculosis hospitals."

Nowhere in that language would anyone get the idea that it was to be spent to enlarge, improve, modernize or even build county sanatoria. The obvious implication in the wording was that the state was going to build its own TB hospitals.

The legislature's first move was to get an attorney general's opinion confirming that the constitutional amendment said nothing about just state hospitals. Someone had drawn the amendment very cleverly, or someone discovered the omission belatedly and took advantage of it.

Pressure from the southwestern counties forced the earmarking of $1,600,000 of the $5,000,000 for a new state hospital in Kalamazoo.

Then the rest was up for grabs. Members of the senate appropriations committee could not escape the implication of favoritism when the committee released bills to two of its members. Those outside the committee were understandably mad.

Pet Projects Pushed

The house balked, however, fearing to put out the senate bills lest about $10,000,000 in other pet projects would be tacked on it.

The mental health people suddenly saw their $60,000,000 share being trimmed and pitched in to fight the TB people.

So the legislature finally developed a compromise—to give $2,000,000 to the "little legislature" and set up a study committee to advise the "little legislature" in 60 days how to cut up the melon.

Since the "little legislature" is composed of members of the appropriations committees the fear still exists that they will be partial to the pet projects of their own members first.

By cutting up the melon into a dozen little county projects, the legislature has completely ignored the necessity for a large southeastern area hospital, has ignored the recommendations of the state TB hospital commission, and has left unanswered the question of financing the other $1,000,000 to complete the southwestern Michigan hospital.

Most of all, it has shocked those supporters of the bond issue proposal who were not told they were voting to patch and enlarge a lot of county institutions.

Time And Space Run Out For Caterpillars In Cedarville Area

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich.—(AP)—The worm army continues to advance—but it is running out of time and space.

The caterpillar horde that has infested Upper Michigan and parts of Ontario now has eaten its way to the Cedarville-Hessel, Mich., area.

That's about 40 miles south of the Soo and right on the shores of Lake Huron.

Trees in the area look like they had never leafed out at all. "Man, that was a short summer," they seem to say.

The plague is due to end shortly, though. For one thing, the worms haven't yet devised a way to get across the straits of Mackinac to Lower Michigan under their own power. For another, they have only about five days left before they get sleepy and want to curl up in a good cocoon.

Woman Injured In Car-Truck Crash; Drivers Ticketed

Mrs. Ania Kiaioja sustained bruises of the body and upper left arm yesterday at 4:20 p. m. when a car driven by her husband, Leander Kiaioja of Rock Rt. 1, collided with a truck driven by William M. Anderson jr. of Rapid River.

The accident occurred on M-35 near the Beaver Crossing. Mrs. Kiaioja was treated in the office of a Gladstone physician.

State police of Gladstone who investigated the accident reported Kiaioja was overtaking a truck driven by Anderson, and skidded into the truck as Anderson attempted to make a left turn.

Both drivers were ticketed. Kiaioja for excessive speed and failure to have his car under control, and Anderson for making an improper left turn.

The high school band is requested to meet at the city hall at 7 p. m. and the city band is requested to meet at 7:30 for the purpose of making proper placement of each group.

Colorado Farmer, 74, Who Had His Funeral May Take Bride Next

BURLINGTON, Colo.—(AP)—A wedding may be next for Jim Gernhart, 74, year old farmer who entertained at his own funeral last Sunday.

The salty ex-storekeeper, who revealed at his mock last rites, says he's getting 20 marriage proposals a day from widows who read of his funeral and the $60,000 he's expected to leave.

"If I was to take up with any of these widow women," Gernhart said today, "that would be a real new thing—getting married a month or two after your funeral. I may surprise you all yet."

Gernhart voyaged into matrimony for seven months in 1927, before his wife left him. She died last fall.

Three Russians Ousted From U. S. Zone In Austria

The Russians refused. Maj. Hartel, assisted by a lieutenant and two G. I.'s, then opened the driver's door.

Together they dragged the struggling Russian sergeant driver, Vasil Elistratov, from his seat. Two G. I.'s held Elistratov in an armlock until an American lieutenant entered the Russian's car.

The Russian sergeant was put into an American sedan.

The convoy then roared off for Linz, 75 miles away, where the Russians were to be dumped at the Danube river bridge crossing to the Soviet zone town of Urba Urfahr.

Buckeyes Split With Western

Winner Gets Berth In NCAA Tourney

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP)—Ohio State and Western Michigan meet in the rubber game of their three-game series today—the winner to represent district four in the NCAA baseball tournament in Omaha next week.

The Buckeyes and the Broncos split an abbreviated doubleheader yesterday, Ohio State winning the 10-inning opener 1-0 but dropping the five-inning nightcap 4-2.

The opener saw a red-hot pitching duel between Buckeye hurler Dick Hauck and Western's Dan Edwards. Hauck, giving six hits, fanned seven and walked five, Edwards allowed seven hits, struck out three and walked one.

The winning run was scored on a single by Bob Mann, a walk to Bob Montebello and a single by Bill Zimmer.

Western Michigan took an early lead in the nightcap, which was cut short by rain. The Broncos got three runs in the first on a walk, a stolen base, a double, a single and a fielder's choice.

The line scores:

(First Game)
W. Michigan 000 000 000—0 6 3
Ohio State 000 000 000—1 7 0

Edwards and Bruney; Hauck and Mann.

(Second Game)
W. Michigan . . . . . 300 01—4 5 0
Ohio State . . . . . 200 02—2 5 0

Cole and Bruney; Bohoslav, Scutt (4) and Gannon.
